Regional Air Access

Woodford County's position within a 90-mile radius of three commercial airports creates a logistics and connectivity advantage. The combination of a growing regional airport minutes away, a top-five global cargo hub in Louisville, and a major international passenger and freight gateway in Cincinnati gives this corridor access typically reserved for primary metros.

Few secondary industrial markets in the U.S. sit within a one-hour drive of both UPS Worldport and Amazon's primary air cargo hub. For industrial tenants with time-sensitive supply chain requirements, this dual-hub proximity is a material operational advantage that directly reduces transit times and logistics costs.

Strategic Location

Versailles, Kentucky, located in Woodford County adjacent to Lexington and Fayette County, offers a strategic Bluegrass location with immediate access to US Highway 60 and excellent connectivity to Interstate 64, Interstate 75 (via Lexington), and the Bluegrass Parkway. Blue Grass Airport is just minutes away, providing commercial air access for business travel.

Quality of Life & Workforce

Woodford County combines regional accessibility with exceptional quality of life. Known for its rolling horse farms and premier location in the heart of bourbon country, the community offers strong public schools, a growing retail base, and thoughtful residential development — all while being near to Lexington's urban amenities. The workforce pipeline is supported by Midway University and nearby institutions including the University of Kentucky, Transylvania University, and Georgetown College.
