Oakland, California, sits on the eastern edge of San Francisco Bay, known for its mix of city lift and natural beauty. Its diverse culture, scenic landscapes and mild weather attract outdoor enthusiasts with sweeping bay views, numerous parks, and plenty of green spaces. From historic Victorian homes to modern hillside estates, Oakland's housing options cater to a wide range of residents. Education is central to Oakland's identity, bolstered by institutions like the University of California, Berkeley, while its vibrant cultural scene thrives in museums, theaters, and lively neighborhoods like Chinatown and Fruitvale, reflecting the city's diverse population. Hosting major sports teams and diverse cultural events year-round, Oakland remains a growing hub of creativity, strategically located near San Francisco and Silicon Valley.

According to the California Department of Finance, the population in Alameda County was 1,510,303 in 2006, which is a 0.7% increase from the 2006 population of 1,500,228. Population for the county is anticipated to continue growing at a similar rate in the foreseeable future. Its growth and popularity can be attributed to its mild climate, close proximity to the coast, varied job opportunities and suburban residential communities. The estimated unemployment rate for Alameda County for July 2007 was 4.0%. This compares with an unadjusted unemployment rate 5.5% of California and 4.9% for the United States. In summary, Alameda County is experiencing steady growth in all areas due to its location, influx of major business opportunities, and overall economic stability. This trend is anticipated to continue into the near future.

San Francisco is the capital of culture, with the largest number of well-established cultural institutions. They include ballet, classical music, art, and the San Francisco Opera, which is regarded by many as one of the top 10 opera houses in the world. The city is also the news media center for all of Northern California and has been the West Coast's financial hub for 150 years. San Francisco's centrality is fading as other parts of the Bay Area grow. Some of the city's population is moving into the suburbs and the suburbs of former suburbs and Silicon Valley is spreading and transforming into other nearby parts of the Bay Area.

The East Bay possesses a diverse economic base featuring a wide range of manufacturing industries (transportation equipment, computer, food processing, fabricated metal products, non-electrical machinery, and stone-clay-glass products). In fact, East Bay has the most diversified manufacturing sector in Northern California. The fastest growing sector in the area is services, but manufacturing continues to grow. The Port of Oakland, the third largest containership port on the West Coast, is a major economic engine in the East Bay as well as the Bay Area as a whole.

Far less congested than San Francisco International, and more centrally located for the East Bay, Oakland International is becoming the people's choice for air travel. Oakland International is a West Coast distribution center for Federal Express, UPS, Airborne Express, Burlington Air Express, and Emery Worldwide, eleven commercial airlines provided more than 1,400, non-stop, direct or connecting flights weekly to destinations in the United States, Canada, Europe, and Mexico. The growth of Bay Area trucking has been fueled by distribution needs of region's industry and agriculture. Due to the high volume of ship container traffic from the Port of Oakland and the widespread use of advanced management techniques, virtually every major trucking firm in the nation has at least one terminal in the Bay area. In fact, there are over 1,000 registered trucking carriers in the East Bay making overnight delivery service to major California cities.

The East Bay has become one of the leading biotechnology research centers in the country with the research activities at the University of California Berkeley, Lawrence Berkeley National Laboratory, Lawrence Livermore National Laboratory, and the many private Biotechnology firms, which have located near the Universities and Labs.

Between the year 2010 and the year 2021 Alameda County population has increased each year. The population has increased 9% from 1,500,000 in 2010 to 1,600,000 in 2021. The California population grew by 5.1% and the US population by 7.3%. Alameda County's population is outpacing the state and US

The East Bay is a mixture of heavy industry (oil refineries, Oakland's container port); knowledge industries (software, biotech) developed around universities and scientific laboratories; and suburban offices, housing, and service industries. A bioscience cluster has developed around the University of California, Berkeley.

Transportation-The East Bay's transportation network has fostered the growth of all types of real estate. The Port of Oakland, an international airport, rail service by four carriers, and a network of interstate and state highways have played important roles in the development of the area. Five principal highways connect the East Bay with adjacent counties. Interstate 80 leads west to San Francisco via the Bay Bridge and east to Sacramento. Interstate 580 connects the East Bay to the Central Valley and Southern California, via Interstate 5. Interstate 680 serves the area in a north-south direction. Interstate 880 accommodates north-south traffic circulation on the east shore of San Francisco Bay. Highway 24 links Oakland with eastern Contra Costa County, passing through the Caldecott Tunnel. Transbay bridges include the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge, which extends interstate 80 into San Francisco; the Richmond-San Rafael Bridge, leading into Marin County and northern areas; and the Hayward-San Mateo and Dumbarton Bridges connecting East points with San Mateo and Palo Alto on the San Francisco Peninsula.

Sea and Air Cargo-The Port of Oakland, an independent agency of the City of Oakland, is the third largest container-ship port on the West Coast and ranks among the top 4 in the nation and 20 in the world in terms of annual container traffic. The Port has approximately 759.3 acres of developed terminal area, served by 35 container cranes, including 29 of the post-Panamax type, and 20 deep-water berths with a total of more than 20,000 linear feet of berthing length. The fourth largest seaport in the nation, the Port of Oakland handles 99% of all containerized cargo that passes through Northern California ports. Located at the terminus of three transcontinental railroads and four interstate highways, the Port of Oakland is a Key West Coast intermodal connection and the hub of Northern California's distribution system. The Port handled the equivalent of 1,923,104 twenty-foot containers.

The Port of Oakland also operates the Oakland metropolitan International Airport, which covers an area of approximately 3,000 acres, and is located nine miles from downtown Oakland. The airport serves more than 9.8 million passengers and handles more than 1.4 billion pounds of cargo annually. Oakland Metropolitan International Airport has 10,000-foot fully instrumented main runway that can be extended to 12,500 feet and a large terminal complex, capable of servicing up to 2,500 passenger arrivals and departures per hour. A separate International Arrivals Building has customs inspection and baggage claim facilities for handling 500 passengers per hour. The runways, taxiways and plane positions at both cargo and passenger terminals have jumbo jet capacities. Primarily general aviation aircraft also use three other runways. Operations of these general aviation runways are controlled from a separate tower.

Oakland Bounce Back

Oakland continues to attract skilled workers drawn to its central location and strong employment base. In early 2025, the city reinstated in-person work for all employees, signaling renewed confidence in the local economy. Major employers including PG&E, Kaiser Permanente, and the Port of Oakland—are reinforcing this trend by expanding or returning staff to the office.

These developments underscore Oakland's continued rebound, fueled by renewed downtown activity and increasing demand for housing and services throughout the East Bay. Based on internal WDIS research, Oakland properties built after 2015 with 40 or more units have achieved year-over-year net effective rent growth of 8.8%. With no new projects currently under construction, this positive rent momentum is expected to persist in the near term.

PG&E RECENTLY EXERCISED OPTION TO BUY BUILDING FOR $900M

NOTABLE RELOCATION FROM SAN FRANCISCO TO OAKLAND: PG&E
 After more than a century being based in San Francisco, utility majority Pacific Gas & Electric (PG&E) announced their decision to relocate to Oakland in 2020. Their 5-year phased move began in late 2022 and is expected to conclude in late 2027. PG&E will occupy approximately 957K SF at Lakeside Center just 1.9 miles away from 552 15th Ave.
 Andy Vespy, the CEO of PG&E's utility subsidiary, said in the statement that the company was proud of its long history in San Francisco but described Oakland as "a perfect fit" and "a thriving hub of industry and innovation in our state."

Affordability Constraints

Home ownership affordability constraints are still prevalent in Oakland, where the median single-family home price is $700,691. With many residents unable to afford the skyrocketing costs associated with home ownership, let alone the equity of $140,138 to make an initial down payment on a home in Oakland, demand for apartment homes in Alameda County will continue to be strong and will keep upward pressure on rental rates. With median SFH prices also prohibitively high for most residents in neighboring cities, renting is the clear option for the majority of the population, even with average household incomes rising in this region.

Oakland offers one of the most compelling opportunities for rent growth in Alameda county. Nestled between high-cost neighborhoods and thriving employment hubs, Oakland provides a unique combination of relative affordability and convenient access to major employers and lifestyle amenities.

MARKET OVERVIEW

OAKLAND

The Oakland/East Bay metro is located on the eastern side of the San Francisco Bay and encompasses 1,470 square miles across Alameda and Contra Costa counties. Regionally lower housing costs and quick access across the Bay lure many San Francisco workers to the East Bay. The Port of Oakland is a major economic driver for the area, with 2 million to 2.3 million TEUs passing through annually. The area also continues to be an epicenter for redevelopment and conversion projects, especially in older portions of Oakland and Hayward. These efforts are attracting businesses and residents. Delta Dental expanded its downtown Oakland office footprint in 2023, with a collection of biotech firms executing leases in the city of Alameda. High-paying jobs in these segments and the tech sector should continue to attract young professionals to the metro.

WORLD-CLASS INSTITUTIONS

Students have access to 15 colleges and universities in the East Bay, including the University of California, Berkeley.

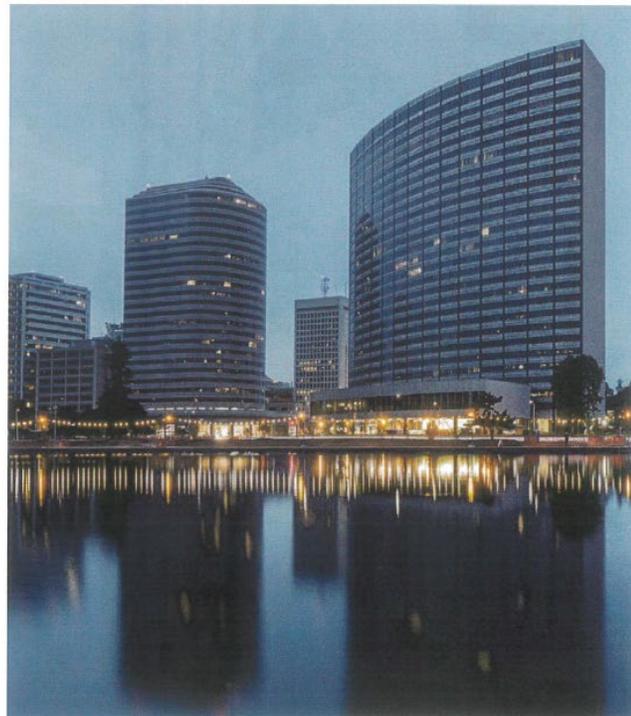

EDUCATED WORKFORCE

The large base of skilled workers supports diversification in local industries, drawing tech and research employers.

ELEVATED HOUSEHOLD INCOME

A skilled labor pool and sizable higher-paying industries support a median household income that is nearly $40,000 above the United States level.

MARKET OVERVIEW

- The population will expand by about 66,000 residents during the next five years, resulting in the formation of more than 27,000 households.
- Due to high home prices and a large proportion of 20- to 40-year-olds, the homeownership rate of 56 percent is well-below the U.S. average, supporting a large renter pool.
- Roughly 42 percent of the population ages 25 and older have attained a bachelor's degree, with nearly 20 percent also holding a graduate or professional degree.

2023 POPULATION BY AGE

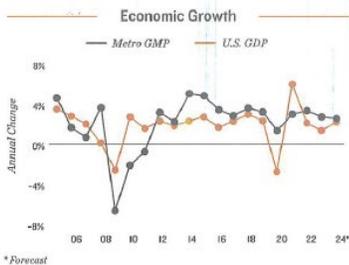

QUALITY OF LIFE

The past decade's redevelopment of Downtown Oakland has resulted in housing, office and retail construction, which has improved the quality of life for urban dwellers. In the East Bay, residents and visitors enjoy cultural and recreational activities, including the symphony, an award-winning zoo, the Paramount Theatre, the Oakland Museum of California and numerous parks. The remaining major league sports team in the metro is the Oakland Athletics of the MLB, who play at the Oakland-Alameda County Coliseum. The organization's lease, however, expires in 2024, and the team is expected to relocate to Las Vegas. The Oakland Arena, which was the home of the NBA's Golden State Warriors, is now used for concerts and events.

MARKET OVERVIEW

ECONOMY

Rare opportunity to apply for Section 8 housing waitlist in Oakland

For the first time in 14 years, the Oakland Housing Authority will accept applications for the affordable housing voucher waitlist.

by Natalie Orenstein
Jan. 3, 2025, 3:00 p.m.

The Oakland Housing Authority will hold a lottery for 5,000 new spots on the voucher waitlist. Credit: Florence Middleton

The Oakland Housing Authority is opening its waitlist for Section 8 housing vouchers, which can be used by low-income households to pay part of their rent.

Applications will open Jan. 7 through Jan. 26 for 5,000 new spots on the list. It's a rare opportunity for Oakland residents seeking affordable housing: the waitlist last opened in 2011.

Recipients of Housing Choice Vouchers — still commonly referred to by their former name, Section 8 — are responsible for paying 30-40% of their monthly income toward rent and utilities. The voucher covers the rest.

Even though the waitlist is reopening, the Oakland Housing Authority has not recently received any new vouchers from the federal government, which distributes them to local authorities. Instead, the agency is planning to reissue a number of existing vouchers from recipients who've moved on to other housing situations, said spokesperson Kelsey Frost.

- Apply online for the Section 8 waitlist
- Read our guide to applying for affordable housing

Interested individuals and households can apply online or in person at Oakland Housing Authority locations where staff can assist. These centers are located at 1327 65th Ave., 1540 Webster St., and 935 Union St. (See dates and times online.)

The agency “encourages every family seeking affordable housing in Oakland to apply to the waiting list lottery,” Frost said. “We have staff to assist with the process, including in-person application kiosks at several locations, multilingual translation, and assistance for persons who may need additional support with the process.”

When applications close, the housing authority will run a random lottery to select the 5,000 households who will be placed on the waitlist. Depending on their spot on the list, selected households could end up receiving a Section 8 voucher in a matter of weeks — or they could wait on the list for years before getting called on.

In order to be eligible, an applicant must make under 50% of the median income for the area. That means a family of four must make under $77,850. A household of two must make under $62,300. (See all current limits.)

Section 8 is not a public housing program, meaning voucher-holders must find their own private apartments or houses to rent, as well as landlords who will accept them as tenants. But the government determines how much the overall rent is, setting the cost at what it considers to be a fair market value.

It is illegal in Oakland for landlords to discriminate against prospective Section 8 tenants — they must give everyone a shot at applying for an open unit. But ultimately it's up to the property owner to decide whom to rent to.

When the Oakland Housing Authority received several hundred emergency vouchers early in the COVID-19 pandemic, the agency teamed up with then-Mayor Libby Schaaf to encourage landlords to participate in the program. There is a benefit to property owners, who can expect regular and timely rent payments. That campaign was successful, Frost said. The housing authority also offers incentives, like paying for some capital improvements at participating buildings and covering security deposits.

Subsidized housing is costly and slow to build, and Oakland doesn't have nearly enough, so the Section 8 program is meant to give low-income renters flexibility and a better chance to find an affordable home.

There are also some vouchers tied to specific affordable housing projects.

Because the vouchers come from the federal government, the program can receive more or less investment depending on the given administration. Some people in the affordable housing industry are concerned that President-Elect Donald Trump could scale down the program.

“Under a worst-case scenario, in which the Section 8 program is severely down-sized, some existing buildings that rely on Section 8 to maintain operations will need to seek other sources, raise rents, or face financial uncertainty,” Emily Weinstein, director of Oakland's Housing and Community Development Department, previously told The Oaklandside.

Frost said the housing authority will work with the new administration and landlords to guarantee “the highest and best use of precious federal dollars to ensure housing opportunities reach as many families in Oakland as possible.”

Correction: This article previously incorrectly said voucher recipients pay 30-40% of the total rent cost. Voucher holders actually pay 30-40% of their household income toward the total rent cost.

Job boom returns to Bay Area and California as hiring surges in May

South Bay powers Bay Area jobs upswing

By George Avalos | Bay Area News Group | PUBLISHED: June 21, 2024 at 9:55 a.m. UPDATED: June 21, 2024 at 4:17 p.m.

Led by a hiring surge in the South Bay, the Bay Area powered to big job gains in May, banishing — at least for now — the ominous specter of a weak labor market and job losses that haunted the region earlier this year.

The nine-county region added 7,000 jobs in May, the most in a month since December 2023 when the area produced a gain of 11,200 positions, the state's labor agency reported Friday.

The Bay Area's upswing in hiring during May occurred despite massive job cuts in the region's tech industry, primarily in the San Francisco metro area.

The South Bay muscled up to produce a gain of 3,300 jobs, nearly half of all the hiring in the Bay Area during May, according to the state Employment Development Department.

The East Bay added 2,100 jobs.

The San Francisco-San Mateo region added 1,000 positions, the EDD reported.

California added 43,700 jobs in May and also reached a record-high number of nonfarm payroll jobs that topped 18 million.

Both the California and the Bay Area numbers were adjusted for seasonal volatility.

"The California and Bay Area labor market firmed in May following a string of disappointing job reports, rekindling expectations for a soft landing for the Bay Area economy following two years now of higher interest rates and rapid inflation," said Scott Anderson, chief U.S. Economist for BMO Capital Markets.

The statewide unemployment rate was 5.2% in May, an improvement from 5.3% in April.

The improvement marked the first time in nearly two years that the statewide jobless rate decreased. In August 2022, the statewide unemployment rate reached a record-low level of 3.8%. Until the improvement in May, it had worsened steadily.

"The labor market performance was good enough to calm some nerves in Sacramento and raise the odds that the Bay Area expansion will continue to muddle through in the months ahead," Anderson said.

Here is how some key industries fared in the Bay Area during May, according to seasonally adjusted numbers that Beacon Economics derived from the EDD official report:

— Tech companies slashed employment by a net 2,100 jobs. They cut 2,200 jobs in the San Francisco-San Mateo region and another 400 in the South Bay. The tech industry, however, added 600 jobs in the East Bay.

— Hotels and restaurants added 1,300 jobs in the Bay Area. Hotels and restaurants gained 800 jobs in San Francisco-San Mateo and 400 in the South Bay.

— Financial services firms added 1,700 jobs in the Bay Area, driven primarily by an increase of 1,000 in the San Francisco metro area and 600 in the East Bay. This sector includes banks and other financial firms, insurance companies and real estate firms.

— Health care firms increased employment by 1,200 positions in the Bay Area in May. The South Bay added 1,000 health care jobs last month, the Beacon estimate showed.

"In the Bay Area, the volatile tech and information sectors are still negative, with growth concentrated in hospitality, health care and government," said Jeffrey Michael, executive director of the Stockton-based Center for Business and Policy Research at the University of the Pacific.

It's become clear that the Bay Area's post-coronavirus recovery has begun to lag behind California as a whole.

The state's total of 18.03 million payroll jobs in May was 1.2% higher than the jobs it had in February 2020, the final month before government-mandated business lockdowns went into effect to combat the spread of the coronavirus.

Yet the Bay Area and its three major urban centers all remain below their pre-COVID job heights.

Here is what this news organization's analysis of the EDD report shows regarding the Bay Area's post-coronavirus employment recovery. The numbers compare the May 2024 numbers with February 2020 levels:

- The Bay Area is 1.3% below the February 2020 level, or a jobs deficit of 53,300.
- The South Bay is 0.2% beneath the pre-COVID figure, or a shortfall of 1,800 positions.
- The East Bay is 0.3% below, or a gap of 3,200 jobs.
- The San Francisco-San Mateo region is 3.7% under the pre-coronavirus total, which is a jaw-dropping deficit of 44,300 jobs.

Over the most recent 12 months that ended in May, the East Bay's job totals have risen 0.9%, while the South Bay and the Bay Area are up 0.5%.

In sharp contrast, San Francisco-San Mateo's job totals are down 0.5% during the one-year period.

The San Francisco-San Mateo metro area, Michael said, is "the only one of California's 29 metro areas that has lost jobs over the past 12 months."

Over the first five months of 2024, the San Francisco metro area lost 6,400 jobs. Until the gains in May, the San Francisco region had lost jobs every month this year.

The Bay Area's hefty hiring in May of a net total of 7,000 workers provided a hopeful counterpoint to the dreary trends for the region during the first four months of the year.

From January through April, the Bay Area had lost 600 jobs. But May's upswing means the Bay Area has gained 6,400 jobs over 2024's first five months.

During that same five-month period, the East Bay gained 3,600 jobs.

The South Bay, however, is the primary driver of the Bay Area job market so far in 2024. During the first five months of the year, the South Bay added 7,500 jobs and lost jobs in only one month, February,

The various trends suggest the South Bay retains its top-notch status as a jobs engine, despite the tech sector's well-known boom-and-bust cycles, according to Russell Hancock, president of Joint

Demand continues to remain solid for the multifamily asset class as absorption in this year's first half surged to 98,429 units with an increase of 83,449 units in the second quarter of 2023, according to a new report by Newmark. This number almost quadruples absorption from last year's first half, and demand is expected to accelerate in the second half of 2023 and beyond to the first half of 2024.

So far supply – set to reach a 50-year high this year – is keeping pace. Already in this year's first half, 198,806 units were delivered, a record, and total deliveries for the entire year are projected to surge 51.1% year-over-year. Deliveries are also expected to increase in the second half through 2024.

In the four quarters ended in the 2Q of this year, the median market saw inventory growth by 2%. Ten out of 150 markets experienced growth above 5%. But over the next four quarters, change is coming with this measurement set to grow by 3.2%, including in 28 markets with inventory growth of 5% or more. As most markets reflected more new deliveries and with that expected to continue, some markets may be slower to absorb new inventory. But even if that turns out to be true, absorption in 40 of the top 50 markets is still expected to outpace the 2018-2022 annual average.

Meanwhile, for the first time in three quarters, multifamily had positive effective rent growth quarter-over-quarter in the second quarter of this year. Midwestern markets made up six of the top 10 markets for greatest YoY effective rent growth. However, rent growth continued to slow YoY.

Worth noting is that multifamily expenses increased a significant 8.3% Y-o-Y, mostly due to a 28.6% rise in insurance costs, which along with management and other expenses put a strain on landlords. Also, on the to-be-watched list is how price dislocation and the higher interest rate environment hinder the investment sales market, evidenced by the 71.8% YoY decline to $28.2 billion in quarterly sales volume.

Cities With the Most and Least Expensive Apartment Rents

New York City tops the list as the most expensive U.S. city to rent a one-bedroom apartment—$3,260—while Wichita, Kansas ranks as the state with the least expensive on-bedroom rent—$650, according to a report by Zumper, a renters assistance organization.

Cities With Most Expensive Rents

Ranking	City	Monthly Price for One Bedroom
1	New York City	$3,260
2	San Francisco	$2,910
3	Boston	$2,660
4	Miami	$2,500
5	San Jose, California	$2,420

7	San Diego	$2,280
8	Washington, D.C.	$2,230
9	Oakland, California	$2,070
10	Santa Ana, California	$1,950

After a year of substantial rent growth, Miami passed San Jose to become the fourth most-expensive rental market, the report says. The shift in the rankings shows how quickly rent has increased in Miami and how slow rent growth in the San Francisco Bay Area continues to be.

Cities With Least Expensive Rents

Ranking	City	Monthly Price for One Bedroom
1	Wichita, Kansas	$650
2	Akron, Ohio	$680

7	Laredo, Texas	$810
8	Baton Rouge, Louisiana	$820
9	Oklahoma City, Oklahoma	$830
10	Tucson, Arizona	$840

Rent in 2022 is rising faster than in 2021, according to the report. In March, the average one-bedroom rent nationally rose to an all-time high of $1,400, which represents a growth of 2.5% for the calendar year so far. This is higher than the 1.9% rise experienced over the same period last year.

OAKLAND MULTIFAMILY MARKET OVERVIEW

DEMAND STILL OUTWEIGHS SUPPLY

Oakland's office market has produced over 1.5 million SF in new deliveries and redevelopments since 2019. In addition, there are nine projects in the pipeline totaling 7.0 million SF, with seven of the nine projects (6.1 million SF) located in Uptown Oakland.

TREMENDOUS ACCESS TO MAJOR EMPLOYERS

SAN FRANCISCO MARKET OVERVIEW

San Francisco and the greater Bay Area is a world leader in the fields of technology, life sciences/biotech, hardware, software, social media and alternative energy, and is also home to the second largest corporate base of Fortune 500 companies in the United States. The region's robust venture capital community, leading research and academic institutions, and entrepreneurial and innovative spirit have spawned global technology and biotechnology giants including Google, Apple, Facebook, Salesforce, Oracle, Cisco Systems, eBay, Genentech and Gilead. In addition, the region continues to foster a host of next wave companies including Uber, Twitter, Dropbox, Airbnb, Square and Okta that draw upon the Bay Area's exceptional talent and creativity.

OAKLAND MARKET OVERVIEW

Major office occupiers continue to look east to Oakland to be closer to employee bases. JLL reported tenant requirements nearly doubled quarter over quarter in Q4 2021. In 2021, PG&E finalized plans to move operations out of San Francisco to 87,000 SF in Oakland's 300 Lakeside, aiming to fully occupy in 2023, while Twitter finalized its expansion into Oakland's downtown. Oakland has attracted significant Bay Area office tenant attention and there have been over 2.2 million SF in total office migrations and expansions from San Francisco to Oakland over the last decade.

880 CORRIDOR MARKET OVERVIEW

The 880 Corridor is also poised for the most growth in the Inner Bay. From East Oakland to Fremont, this is the last area to "mature," as it has been preceded in development by San Francisco, the Peninsula, and the South Bay/Silicon Valley. The 880 Corridor has formerly been home to workforce housing and industrial land uses, but its cities have been implementing more zoning for housing in recent years. Indeed, one of the characteristics of the most recent cycle has been a new activation of the 880 Corridor. In addition to its relative housing affordability at a discount to the balance of the Inner Bay, employers have been establishing outposts in the Corridor, such as Tesla's Fremont location and Facebook's Ardenwood site in Newark. BART's completed extension into San Jose and its Phase 2 to Santa Clara are further deepening the Corridor's rapid connections to all Bay Area employment hubs.

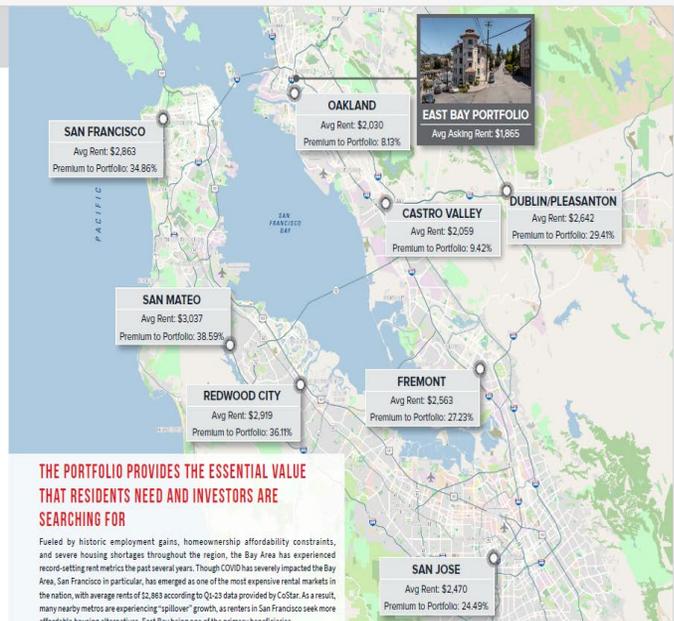

RELATIVE AFFORDABILITY WITHIN THE BAY AREA

SIGNIFICANT DISCOUNT TO HOME OWNERSHIP

Given the high home values in the area, the ability to put down 20% on a house can be difficult for even high wage earners, which makes renting the more attractive option for people looking to live in the Bay Area. The table to the right displays the difference between renting a unit in the Portfolio and buying a house in Oakland. It is roughly 63% more expensive on a monthly basis to buy versus rent and takes roughly $172,510 (20%) down to purchase a home in Oakland. This analysis makes the Portfolio an attractive alternative to owning a home, especially for young professionals and families looking for a more affordable option with direct access to employment centers.

THE PORTFOLIO PROVIDES THE ESSENTIAL VALUE THAT RESIDENTS NEED AND INVESTORS ARE SEARCHING FOR

Fueled by historic employment gains, homeownership affordability constraints, and severe housing shortages throughout the region, the Bay Area has experienced record-setting rent metrics the past several years. Though COVID has severely impacted the Bay Area, San Francisco in particular, has emerged as one of the most expensive rental markets in the nation, with average rents of $2,863 according to Q1-23 data provided by CoStar. As a result, many nearby metros are experiencing "spillover" growth, as renters in San Francisco seek more affordable housing alternatives, East Bay being one of the primary beneficiaries.

OAKLAND OVERVIEW

Oakland is the largest city in Alameda County, the third largest city in the San Francisco Bay Area, and the foundation of the East Bay market. The Oakland CBD encompasses over 22 million SF of office space, 3.7 million SF of retail, 68.5K units of multifamily residential, and 1,698 hotel rooms.

Oakland has evolved into one of the most attractive commercial real estate markets in the nation. Over the last 10 years 4.4 million SF of office space, 465,170 SF of retail space, 7.4 thousand multifamily units have been developed in Oakland. Oakland also offers a multitude of transit options including the BART, AC Transit, I-880/980/580, and Oakland International Airport, as well as a vibrant arts and culture scene featuring numerous restaurants, cafes, entertainment options, and other lifestyle amenities.

Oakland has become well known as an alternative Bay Area office hub, due to its central location and easy access to transit within the Bay Area, better value rents, thriving cultural scene, and presence of large tech offices such as Square (356K SF), Callisto Media (78K SF), Fivetran (79K SF), and Pandora Media (124K SF), Blue Shield (277K SF), Credit Karma (170K SF), Evexix (110K SF), Delta Dental (82KSF) and UCSF/CHO (125K SF). Most recently, Twitter announced that it will be establishing a presence in Oakland and signed a 66K SF lease at 1330 Broadway. Twitter's decision was made despite its announcement to allow employees to permanently work from home and illustrates the desire for high-quality office space, despite hybrid or work from home arrangements. Twitter's choice of Oakland was largely driven by the need to attract and retain talent in the post-COVID world, underscoring the area's strong amenity base and favorable characteristics.

Office and Multifamily developers have responded nimbly to the greater interest in Oakland and have delivered over 1.5 million SF of office space and 3,346 residential units since 2019. Developers rely on their ability to continue attracting young, well-paid workers into Downtown Oakland to fill up new projects. In a city where 60% of households rent, Oakland's population grew by over 10% from 2010 through 2020, one of the fastest rates of any East Bay city.

ROBUST MARKET GROWTH

Oakland has evolved into one of the most attractive commercial real estate markets in the nation. The area has experienced tremendous growth with over 7.0 million SF of commercial space either approved for development or in planning. Additionally, office rents have risen 16% over the past 36 months, driven largely by growth in the technology sector, with FinTech companies taking nearly 50% of newly leased space in the past 12 months.

COMPELLING VALUE COMPARED TO SAN FRANCISCO

RENTAL SPREAD AND LACK OF AVAILABILITY DRIVING IN-BOUND MIGRATION

With the rental spread between San Francisco and the Oakland CBD currently at 32%, Oakland offers San Francisco users a compelling value proposition to San Francisco's rapidly escalating cost environment. This, in combination with a lack of expansion options, and lack of any significant new San Francisco deliveries is fueling an acceleration of in-bound migration to the Oakland CBD. Since the beginning of 2011, Oakland has seen nearly 2.9 million SF of in-bound migration, the vast majority of which has come from San Francisco.

LIMITED LARGE BLOCK AVAILABILITY

The acceleration of this in-migration has only further pressured the supply demand imbalance for office space within the Oakland CBD. The newly proposed office supply in Oakland will be welcomed by prospective tenants.

BENEFITS BEYOND THE RENTAL SPREAD

Beyond rental spreads, the Oakland CBD offers users the additional benefit of lower associated operating costs and compelling tax efficiencies. The City of San Francisco has historically charged businesses a payroll tax however, beginning in 2014, the City has begun converting to a gross receipts based tax structure. While the City of Oakland charges a similar gross receipts based tax, the associated rates in Oakland are equivalent to roughly half that of those charged by the city of San Francisco.

GROWTH IN OAKLAND OFFICE SECTOR

Major office occupiers continue to look east to Oakland to be closer to employee bases. JLL reported tenant requirements nearly doubled quarter over quarter in Q4 2021. In 2021, PG&E finalized plans to move operations out of San Francisco to 87,000 SF in Oakland's 300 Lakeside, aiming to fully occupy in 2023. Data giant, Fivetran, also signed for and occupied 79,377 SF in 2021 while Twitter finalized its expansion into Oakland's downtown, leasing 66,600 SF in Q3 2021 and occupying Q2 2022. Oakland has attracted significant Bay Area office tenant attention and there have been over 2.2 million SF in total office migrations and expansions from San Francisco to Oakland over the last decade. The high-technology sector has generated a substantial proportion of the growth in the Oakland office sector as tenants discover the higher quality of life, discount to San Francisco rents, and the large population base in the East Bay, which represents 40% of the Bay Area workforce overall. Looking forward, there is over 7 million SF in Oakland's office development pipeline (~75% of which is fully entitled), providing further employment and commercial growth nearby.

TWITTER OAKLAND LEASE - THE TIPPING POINT FOR FURTHER OFFICE EXPANSIONS AND GROWTH

Despite switching to a permanent Work from Home model during the Pandemic, Twitter signed a 66,000 SF lease at 1330 Broadway in 2022, located in the heart of Downtown Oakland. The office was designed to be used with a hybrid work model in mind and offers a convenient location for Oakland based commuters. The lease not only demonstrates that there is still a place for a physical office in the post-COVID world, but also underscores Oakland's attractive amenity base, which appeals to younger, high-earning tech employees. The market is poised for tremendous growth as others follow suit.

"The Oakland office market has maintained strong tenant demand from companies both growing their footprint in Oakland and those looking to move to Oakland for its strong workforce, diverse lifestyle, entertainment options, transportation, and ample housing options"

- David Cropper, TMG's Director of Development

OAKLAND ANTICIPATED TO EXPERIENCE SIGNIFICANT RENT GROWTH AS THE RENTAL GAP NORMALIZES

Oakland is anticipated to experience significant rent growth, bringing the rental gap between Silicon Valley & San Francisco back in-line with its pre-pandemic gap.

The rental gap between Silicon Valley and San Francisco relative to Oakland has grown and been further exacerbated by the pandemic. As the graph below highlights, Oakland rents were on average approximately 25% below Silicon Valley and San Francisco prior to 2020. Today, the rental gap has increased more than 35%, respectively. Moving forward, this suggests a clear "snap-back" of rent growth or tightening of the gap between these respective markets as Oakland continues to experience positive absorption and concession burn-off as the supply demand re-balances.

OAKLAND: A STRATEGIC ALTERNATIVE TO SAN FRANCISCO TENANTS & RENTERS

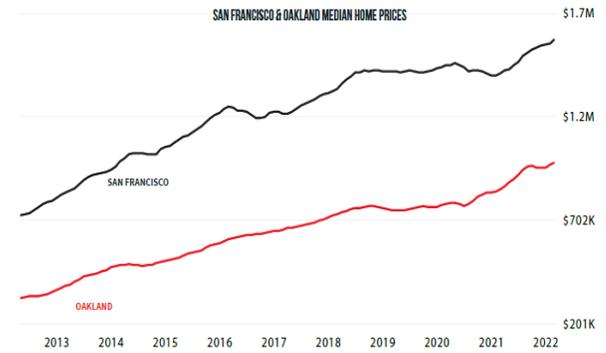

The severe Jobs : Housing imbalance will have meaningful impact on San Francisco and Oakland multifamily market;

SAN FRANCISCO

- Rents will continue to rise
- Renters will transition to Oakland, seeking rent relief in a metropolitan setting

OAKLAND

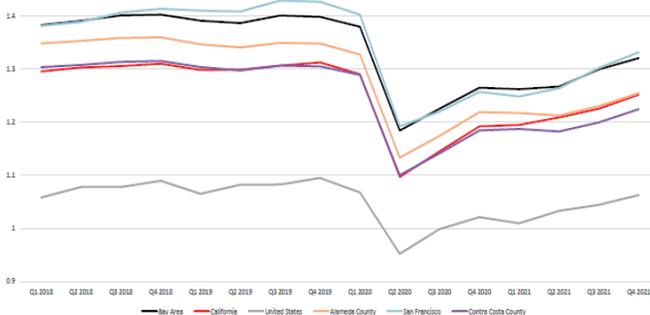

- Net absorption will remain high
- Rents will continue to rise
- Concessions will decline

NOT ENOUGH SAN FRANCISCO BAY AREA HOUSING: THE GREATEST JOBS TO HOUSING IMBALANCE IN THE COUNTRY

Job creation has outpaced the infrastructure available to accommodate the needs of a rapidly growing economy. Housing is the most critical challenge to regional growth. In the past six years, there was one new housing unit built for every 6.9 Bay Area jobs created. This is far behind the national and statewide rates of 2.5 and 5.3 jobs per unit, respectively, and a larger shortfall than that experienced during the late 1990s. Inadequate supply has led to greatly increased prices; a trend that will likely continue.

HOMEOWNERSHIP AFFORDABILITY

OAKLAND A CENTER OF JOB GROWTH

As Oakland office market continues to expand, it is attracting high profile and high-paying tenants emigrating from San Francisco. As the office, residential and retail infrastructure in Oakland grows, both employers and employees are increasingly selecting Oakland as a strategic alternative to San Francisco. Along with this, companies in San Francisco and the Peninsula are moving across the Bay to accommodate their large base of employees who live in the East Bay.

Recent leases from companies such as Square and Credit Karma are quickly turning Oakland into the Fintech epicenter of the Bay Area, with FinTech companies taking 44% of newly leased space in the past three quarters. Last year, tech unicorn, Fivetrn, executed the city's largest lease of the year (80,000 SF) and moved in late December. More recently, Twitter announced it signed a 66,000 SF lease at 1330 Broadway St., representing not only the ongoing wave of tenant migration from San Francisco, but also that remote work will not stop tech growth & its expansion efforts.

Oakland has over 7M SF of office space in its pipeline, which will begin delivering this year. These newly built and renovated office spaces will continue to drive Oakland's expansion into additional tech and the higher-wage salaries that follow.

BAY AREA RECOVERY - ECONOMIC INDICATORS ARE HERE

Prior to the pandemic, the Bay Area ranked number one among large metropolitan areas in average annual GDP growth over the previous decade. Unemployment stood at historic lows in the Bay Area at 2.7% in February 2020 prior to the pandemic. The region has rebounded quickly with unemployment reaching 2.2% in May 2022, while continuing to achieve more than 30% of U.S. venture capital investment.

According to Oxford Economics, the Bay Area is forecasted to grow the fastest on a GDP per worker basis amongst major U.S. metros. Bay Area's technology, research, and life science concentrations place the region at the center of advanced industries, be it advanced mobility, artificial intelligence, therapeutics, or cloud solutions.
