

William Lincoln Smith House

...

Item Description

Building Name

William Lincoln Smith House

Address

12 N. 5th Avenue

Plaque Text

Believed to be built by Henry M. Bishop in 1846. Later bought by William L. Smith as his family residence. Miss Mamie L. Alderman operated a private school here from 1904 until her death in 1934. The school was continued by her niece, Laura Carpenter, until 1942.

Building Date

1846

Style

Greek Revival

Architect

Henry M. Bishop?

Copyright and Use Restrictions

The materials included in the North Carolina Room's Digital Collections are made available for research, teaching, and private study according to United States Copyright law. The user assumes full responsibility for clearing any copyright protections prior to use of any item. Unless otherwise stated, the North Carolina Room requests that the use of any item be credited to New Hanover County Public Library with the statement "Courtesy of New Hanover County Public Library" and a link to the digital item. If you are a copyright holder who is incorrectly identified or a copyright holder who does not wish to be identified, please contact the North Carolina Room at 910-798-6305 so that we may make corrections. The user hereby agrees that all manuscript, archival, photographic and other personal papers in the possession of the New Hanover Public Library or any publications or documents of the Library itself, are the sole property of the New Hanover Public Library and may not be used or reproduced in any manner without written permission of the Library Advisory Board of the New Hanover Public Library or duly appointed representative. All materials reproduced in any format (printed publication, broadcast, digital or other), must be accompanied in print with the caption, "Courtesy of New Hanover County Public Library, North Carolina Room" and must also include a link to the digital item.