- [5] The owner of the property on which the dwelling units are located shall file and record in the office of the Clerk of the County of Westchester (Division of Land Records) a declaration ("declaration"), satisfactory to the Village in form and substance, stating that the dwelling units are subject to restrictions on occupancy and rates of rent as set forth in Subsection H(6)(b) hereof, that the declaration may be terminated by a document similarly filed and recorded in the office of the Clerk of the County of Westchester (Division of Land Records) by either the owner or the Village, or either of their successors in interest, at any time on notice to the other, and that the owner will not terminate the declaration unless the dwelling units cease to comply with any of the provisions of Subsection H(6)(b)[4] hereof but shall terminate the declaration if the dwelling units cease to comply with any of those provisions of Subsection H(6)(b)[4] hereof.
- [6] If the provisions of Subsection H(6)(b)[4][a], [b] and [c] hereof are satisfied and a total of no more than three dwelling units are established in the floor area constructed after January 1, 2002, the provisions of § 185-40 of this chapter shall not be applicable to any other floor area in the building that existed on January 1, 2002.
- [7] If the provisions of Subsection H(6)(b)[4][a], [b] and [c] hereof cannot be satisfied, off-street parking for the proposed residential uses established pursuant to this subsection shall be provided in accordance with Schedule VII of § 185-36B(7) of this chapter, and § 185-40 of this chapter shall be applicable to the entire site.
- [8] If a total of more than three dwelling units is established in the floor area constructed after January 1, 2002, off-street parking for the additional dwelling units in excess of three shall be provided in accordance with Schedule VII of § 185-36B(7) of this chapter, and § 185-40 of this chapter shall be applicable to the entire site.

§ 185-19

- (7) For residential uses sponsored by a not-for-profit corporation established for the exclusive purpose of developing housing projects for persons of limited income, the following supplementary requirements shall apply:
 - (a) Efficiency units shall contain not less than 200 square feet of floor area. One-bedroom units shall contain not less than 300 square feet of floor area. Two-bedroom units shall contain not less than 400 square feet of floor area.
 - (b) At the discretion of the project sponsor, the building containing such residential uses may also include activity rooms for the common use of the residents of such building and their guests or for programs sponsored by the Village of Pleasantville for the benefit of Village residents, as well as other rooms used for ancillary purposes in support of such programs. Such rooms may be rented by the project sponsor for such purposes.
- (8) Development incentives. In order to promote an active, pedestrian-friendly mixed-use environment that is consistent with the Village's established downtown scale, the Planning Commission may grant any or all of the following incentives:
 - (a) Floor area ratio.
 - [1] If ground-level retail stores, restaurants, personal service uses, recreation uses or other similar uses are provided that, in the opinion of the Planning Commission, will encourage an active street environment for pedestrians, the Commission may exempt the gross floor area devoted to such use(s) from the calculation of maximum FAR.
 - [2] If the property is adjacent to municipally owned land that the property owner agrees to maintain for public access and/or public open space, the Planning Commission may allow such area to count toward total land area for the purposes of calculating maximum FAR, subject to execution of a maintenance agreement and/or easement to the satisfaction of the Village Attorney.
 - [3] The Planning Commission may grant an FAR bonus of up to 15% in exchange for meeting the following design guidelines, to the satisfaction of the Planning Commission:
 - [a] Architectural design standards.
 - [i] The various elements of any project shall be integrated by cohesive architectural treatment and compatible design. Architectural elements shall be used to provide visual interest, reduce apparent scale of the development and promote integration of the various design elements of the project.

§ 185-19

§ 185-19

- [ii] Buildings shall be designed in consideration of appearance from all vantage points. Appurtenances on buildings and auxiliary structures, such as mechanical equipment or water towers, parking facilities, or storage buildings, shall receive architectural treatment and screening consistent with that of principal buildings.
- [iii] Parking structures facing a public street or other publicly accessible area should be architecturally integrated into the principal building using techniques such as an exterior clad in brick, architectural metal panels, solar panels, a window-like facade treatment; use of a "green screen;" or "liner" buildings, i.e., buildings located in front of the parking structure that screen the structure from public view.
- [iv] Buildings should have a top-floor cornice feature and first-floor architectural articulation, such as a storefront with a secondary cornice or an architecturally emphasized entrance doorway, to accent the central body of the building (see diagram below). Buildings located on street corners are encouraged to provide an identifying "landmark" architectural feature to accentuate the importance of the corner location (see diagram below). Such feature should not exceed 25% of building footprint. The Planning Commission may waive the building height restriction for such an architectural feature, up to a maximum of eight feet above the overall building height as approved by the Commission.

Any shutters shall match the size of the window opening, appear functional, and be attached to the window frame.
- [viii] Building elements that provide additional architectural interest, such as balconies, bay windows, open porches and cornices, may encroach up to four feet beyond the front lot line if the bottom of the encroaching building elements is at least 12 feet above grade.
- [ix] Awnings.

[A] Canvas-type awnings and canopies are encouraged, providing the awning/canopy:

- {1} Occupies at least 75% of a single storefront or facade bay;
- {2} Does not stretch horizontally for more than two storefronts or facade bays;
- {3} Does not project out from the storefront or building facade more than to a point that is less than 18 inches from the innermost point of the adjacent curb line; and
- {4} Bottom of the awning is not less than seven feet or more than eight feet above adjacent ground level.

[B] Vinyl awnings are discouraged, unless the applicant can demonstrate to the Planning Commission's satisfaction that the finish and design of such awnings are of high quality, aesthetically pleasing, and meet the intent of the other design guidelines contained in this section (see diagram below).

As referenced in Subsection H(8)(a)[3][a][v] above, heavier appearing materials (by texture, weight or color) should be placed on the base of the building, with lighter appearing materials (by texture, weight or color) placed on the upper portions of the building. Vinyl; aluminum or sheet metal siding or sheet trim; exposed concrete blocks or concrete walls; plywood or other prefabricated panels; unpainted lumber; synthetic stone, brick or stucco; exterior insulation and finishing system (EIFS), direct-applied finish system (DAFS); and chain-link fencing shall not be permitted.

- [iii] The Planning Commission may require buffer landscaping, fencing or screening to separate land uses, and to screen utility buildings, refuse collection areas, cooling systems and other similar installations and features.
- [iv] All plants, trees and shrubs shall be installed in accordance with a planting schedule provided by the developer and approved by the Planning Commission. Landscape materials selected shall be appropriate to the growing conditions of the site and climate zone.
- [c] Lighting.
 - [i] Streets, drives, walks, parking lots and other outdoor areas shall be properly lighted to promote safety and encourage pedestrian use. All exterior lighting for the project shall be directed downward or otherwise appropriately shielded and designed to minimize excessive light. It shall have an attractive appearance compatible with the overall project design and surrounding character. Lighting type, number and locations shall be subject to Planning Commission review and approval as part of the site plan review.
