Land Zoning	Property is situated within the Rio Mesa General Plan Study Area & Sphere of Influence. According to the Madera County Planning Department, this land has not yet been given any land use designation yet, other than Agricultural Land in the Madera County General Plan. Property was officially removed from the Williamson Act in 2016.
Entitlement Process	Madera County would like to see this property “master planned” for General Business Park uses such as office, light industrial and retail commercial uses. Single family residential, multi-family residential and mixed-use development is highly encouraged as well. County Officials estimated that the processing time for obtaining the necessary entitlements is ±18-24 months. An Environmental Impact Report (EIR) will be required as well.
Utilities & Water	Most of the developed and undeveloped properties obtain water from the Madera Irrigation District Canal (runs east to west) which is south of the subject property. Seller owns the ±556 acres (2 large parcels) immediately north of the subject property. There currently are no water easements across these 4 parcels from the MID Canal, however, the easement agreements have been prepared by Seller’s attorney but not yet recorded. These will be recorded before a sale of these parcels is completed. The allocation, distribution, quantity and quality of water on the Sale property are to be determined and evaluated by Buyer. Another option is to investigate joining a new water district (Root Creek Water District) formed by Castle & Cooke, a larger developer who formerly owned 2,225 acres nearby for development of a major residential community which is now underway, called Riverstone.

Local Developments

The Rio Mesa Area Plan specifies 15,000 acres for potential large-scale development in an area bounded by Highway 41, the San Joaquin River, Millerton Lake, and North Fresno County. This site is noted by local government officials to “be around the same size as the City of Clovis”, an area that is currently home to over 100,000 residents. The subject site at the South of the SE corner of Highway 41 & 145 is excellently located to the north of the Rio Mesa Area Plan to take advantage of this growth as it develops, presenting the lucrative opportunity to become an established staple in the locale.

Winner of the American Planning Associations’ “Outstanding Planning Award”, and eventual centerpiece of the Rio Mesa Area Plan. The community-style site is designed complete with town center, new schools, retail and entertainment venues. Set to become major local hub in a
