PROPERTY DESCRIPTION

507 Bush/347-359-363 Grant Ave is an architecturally attractive mixed-use trophy corner building located in the heart of San Francisco's Union Square/Financial District. It houses The Urban Hotel, a three-story property with 55 rooms. The Urban offers budget-friendly accommodations with shared facilities, including a variety of room types like economy doubles and singles, all with shared bathrooms. It caters to travelers looking for affordable lodging in a top location. The Urban Hotel is in excellent condition and very well operated by Engage Hospitality LLC, a talented and experienced operator with a 10 year master lease. They have been managing 100% of the daily residential operations since 2017. The first floor offers over 8,000 square feet of prime retail space along Grant Avenue, making it ideal for retail businesses seeking high visibility in a superb A+ location. The corner space (359 Grant Avenue) is currently occupied by a high-volume Starbucks store with a recently negotiated long term lease extension. There is also a beautiful two level retail space located at 363 Grant Avenue, ideal for luxury retail shops, which was most recently occupied by Serge Sorokko Gallery and previously by American Apparel and West Coast Leather. This space is currently vacant, however the property is being sold with a 3 year NNN rent guarantee in place. The building is flexible and well suited for a variety of buyers, such as legacy investors, exchangers, syndicators, developers, hotel operators, and retail owner/users. The building has been seismically retrofitted. See attached Lease Summary.

LOCATION DESCRIPTION

Located in the Union Square Commercial neighborhood in the heart of downtown San Francisco's Financial District, 507 Bush Street/347-359-363 Grant Ave. is near major landmarks like Chinatown, Union Square, and the TransAmerica Pyramid. It boasts an AAA location directly across Bush Street from the famed "Dragon Gate", one the most popular tourist photo opportunities in San Francisco. The area is known for its significant foot traffic, surrounded by retail shops, restaurants, and public transport options, enhancing its appeal for potential tenants. Bush Street is a major arterial from the western part of the City to Downtown, the Financial District, Chinatown, Union Square and the Embarcadero with one of the highest vehicle traffic counts in San Francisco. Grant Avenue has amazing foot traffic with shoppers and tourists traveling between Union Square shops, Chinatown and North Beach. Public transportation via Muni and BART is nearby, which gives good access to all parts of the City. Freeway entrances and exits are also nearby, giving easy access to and from the Peninsula and East Bay.

Zoning Overview

Only 244 of San Francisco's buildings are zoned as C3R; of this group, 86 are in the Union Square district and immediately adjacent areas.

The SF Planning Department describes the subject property's zoning as follows:

C3R District: Downtown Retail. This District is a regional center for comparison shop-per retailing and direct consumer services. It covers a compact area with a distinctive urban character, consists of uses with cumulative customer attraction and compatibility, and is easily traversed by foot. Like the adjacent Downtown Office District, this District is well-served by City and regional transit, with automobile parking best located at its periphery. Within the District, continuity of retail and consumer service uses is emphasized, with the encouragement of pedestrian interest and amenities and minimization of conflicts between shoppers and motor vehicles. A further merging of this District with adjacent, related Districts is anticipated, partially through the development of buildings that combine retailing with other functions.
