Beard Industrial District

The Beard Industrial District in Modesto, California, is a well-established, 2,000-acre industrial hub known for its strong logistical advantages and long-standing presence in the region. The district offers more than 17 million square feet* of industrial space, with additional land available for build-to-suit development, making it suitable for a wide range of manufacturing, distribution, and logistics operations. A key benefit of the area is its dedicated rail service through the Modesto & Empire Traction Company, which provides seamless daily interchange with both BNSF and Union Pacific railroads. The district is home to numerous major food, beverage, and packaging companies and benefits from excellent access to Highway 99 and Interstate 5, along with competitively priced utilities. With its combination of infrastructure, transportation access, and established industrial presence, the Beard Industrial District continues to serve as a prime location for regional and national businesses. Industry in the Beard District has attracted several globally recognized firms, especially in the food and beverage sector, including Nestlé, Del Monte, Frito-Lay, Stanislaus Foods, E & J Gallo Winery, and Graham Packaging. Its proximity to major transportation routes —namely Highway 99 and Interstate 5 — further enhances its appeal for distribution, manufacturing, and logistics companies.
