Houston Texas

Houston is a global leader in international trade, with strong economic and cultural ties around the world. It's one of just five cities that connect to all six inhabited continents, positioning it as a key center for manufacturing, logistics, and finance. The city's extensive logistical infrastructure, including the port of Houston and the Houston airport system, supports its strategic location and access to global markets, making it an ideal hub for international business.

Houston has a rich history of achievements, from the first word spoken from the moon to the first artificial heart transplant. The city's favorable business environment promotes trade, commerce, industry, and economic growth, attracting numerous businesses. Although it was once dominated by oil-related jobs, Houston's economy has diversified, and it now boasts the 7th largest economy in the U.S. And the nation's youngest and most diverse talent pool. This diversification has cemented Houston's status as a top headquarters city in the Americas.

Confidentiality Agreement

For purposes of this Agreement, "Confidential Information" means all information in whatever form transmitted relating to the past, present or future business affairs, including without limitation, financial and other proprietary information of Owner or Owner's tenants or employees which (i) is disclosed by the Owner or Owner's Designees to the Recipient or Recipient's Representatives, bearing an appropriate legend indicating its confidential or proprietary nature or otherwise disclosed in a manner consistent with its confidential or proprietary nature, or (ii) is produced or developed by the Recipient based on such disclosures including all reports, notes, analyses, compilations, studies, interpretations or other documents prepared by Recipient or Recipient's Representatives which contain, reflect or are based upon, in whole or in part, the above-described information disclosed by Owner, or Owner's Designees, tenants or employees.

Confidential Information shall not include any information of Owner or Owner's tenants or employees that: (i) is or becomes publicly known through no wrongful act of Recipient; (ii) is already known to Recipient at the time of its disclosure or thereafter is received by Recipient from a third party having no obligations of confidentiality to Owner concerning such information; or (iii) is communicated to a third party with express written consent of the Owner. Each party agrees that all communications between the parties regarding a possible Transaction, requests for additional information and questions regarding procedures with respect to a possible Transaction will be submitted or directed with respect to the Property, solely to Owner, or his Designees. Recipient agrees not to contact any tenant of the Owner or tenants' employees regarding a possible Transaction or the Confidential Information without the prior written consent of Owner. Recipient agrees not to disturb any Tenant of the Owner or review the property without a specific appointment and without being in the company of the Owner or Owner's designee.

Neither this Agreement, nor the disclosure of Confidential Information under this Agreement, nor the ongoing discussions and correspondence between the parties, shall constitute or imply a commitment or binding obligation between the parties regarding any transactions or ventures between the parties. If, in the future, the parties elect to enter into a binding commitment regarding any transaction such commitment will be explicitly stated in a separate written agreement executed by both parties, and the parties hereby affirm that they do not intend their discussions, correspondence and other activities to be construed as forming a contract regarding the subject matter thereof.

All Confidential Information disclosed by the Owner to the Recipient under this Agreement (including without limitation, information incorporated in computer software or held in electronic storage media) shall be and remain the property of the Owner. There is no license of use or other permission to use Confidential Information for purposes other than those expressly contemplated herein other than that granted expressly by this Agreement. All such Confidential Information shall be returned to the Owner or destroyed promptly upon written request and shall not be retained in any form by Recipient. In the absence of such written request, all such Confidential Information shall be returned to the Owner or destroyed promptly upon the termination of this Agreement and shall not be retained in any form by Recipient. The rights and obligations of the parties under this Confidentiality Agreement shall survive any such return or destruction of Confidential Information.

In the event of a breach of the foregoing provisions of this Agreement, the parties agree that Owner may not have an adequate remedy at law, in money or damages and, accordingly, shall, in addition to any other available legal or equitable remedies, be entitled to seek an injunction against such breach. Any such relief shall be in addition to and not in lieu of any other relief to which Owner may be entitled at law or in equity, including reasonable attorneys' fees.

This Agreement: (i) is the complete agreement of the parties concerning this subject matter and supersedes any prior such agreements; (ii) may not be amended except in writing signed by both parties; and; (iii); shall be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of the State of Texas without regard to its choice of law provisions.

We include projections, opinions, assumptions or estimates for example only, and they may not represent current or future performance of the property. You and your tax and legal advisors should conduct your own investigation of the property and transaction

Information About Brokerage Services

Texas law requires all real estate license holders to give the following information about brokerage services to prospective buyers, tenants, sellers and landlords.

TYPES OF REAL ESTATE LICENSE HOLDERS:

- A BROKER is responsible for all brokerage activities, including acts performed by sales agents sponsored by the broker.
- A SALES AGENT must be sponsored by a broker and works with clients on behalf of the broker.

A BROKER'S MINIMUM DUTIES REQUIRED BY LAW (A client is the person or party that the broker represents):

- Put the interests of the client above all others, including the broker's own interests;
- Inform the client of any material information about the property or transaction received by the broker;
- Answer the client's questions and present any offer to or counter-offer from the client; and
- Treat all parties to a real estate transaction honestly and fairly.

A LICENSE HOLDER CAN REPRESENT A PARTY IN A REAL ESTATE TRANSACTION:

AS AGENT FOR OWNER (SELLER/LANDLORD): The broker becomes the property owner's agent through an agreement with the owner, usually in a written listing to sell or property management agreement. An owner's agent must perform the broker's minimum duties above and must inform the owner of any material information about the property or transaction known by the agent, including information disclosed to the agent by the seller or seller's agent. A buyer/tenant's agent fees are not set by law and are fully negotiable.

AS AGENT FOR BUYER/TEENANT: The broker becomes the buyer/tenant's agent by agreeing to represent the buyer, usually through a written representation agreement. A buyer's agent must perform the broker's minimum duties above and must inform the buyer of any material information about the property or transaction known by the agent, including information disclosed to the agent by the seller or seller's agent. A buyer/tenant's agent fees are not set by law and are fully negotiable.

AS AGENT FOR BOTH - INTERMEDIARY: To act as an intermediary between the parties the broker must first obtain the written agreement of each party to the transaction. The written agreement must state who will pay the broker and, in conspicuous bold or underlined print, set forth the broker's obligations as an intermediary. A broker who acts as an intermediary:

- Must treat all parties to the transaction impartially and fairly;
- May, with the parties' written consent, appoint a different license holder associated with the broker to each party (owner and buyer) to communicate with, provide opinions and advice to, and carry out the instructions of each party to the transaction.
- Must not, unless specifically authorized in writing to do so by the party, disclose:
 - o that the owner will accept a price less than the written asking price;
 - o that the buyer/tenant will pay a price greater than the price submitted in a written offer; and
 - o any confidential information or any other information that a party specifically instructs the broker in writing not to disclose, unless required to do so by law.

AS SUBAGENT: A license holder acts as a subagent when aiding a buyer in a transaction without an agreement to represent the buyer. A subagent can assist the buyer but does not represent the buyer and must place the interests of the owner first.

TO AVOID DISPUTES, ALL AGREEMENTS BETWEEN YOU AND A BROKER SHOULD BE IN WRITING AND CLEARLY ESTABLISH:

- The broker's duties and responsibilities to you, and your obligations under the representation agreement;
- Who will pay the broker for services provided to you, when payment will be made and how the payment will be calculated.

LICENSE HOLDER CONTACT INFORMATION: This notice is being provided for information purposes. It does not create an obligation for you to use the broker's services. Please acknowledge receipt of this notice below and retain a copy for your records.
