PHOENIX, ARIZONA

Phoenix is the vibrant center of one of the fastest growing job markets and economies in the United States. The 6th largest city in the country, Phoenix is emerging in the new economy with strength in high technology, manufacturing, bioscience research and advanced business services. As a top market for skilled and available workforce, companies are growing in Phoenix because it's not only a thriving business environment, but a great place to live your life. They are #1 in Entrepreneurial Activity.

With nearly 4.4 million people, Greater Phoenix is the 13th largest metropolitan area in the U.S., and its population is expected to nearly double in the next two decades. A young and diverse market with nearly 500,000 students, the region is home to several major universities and colleges. The City of Phoenix is at the center, comprising 60% of the metro area population. With an average age of 32.2, Phoenix is a young city with new development as well as more centralized urban re-development. As this urban area densifies, its unique vibe remains distinctive and vibrant. Phoenix's physical infrastructure is sophisticated and robust, allowing the city to expand at a rapid pace, with plenty of capacity to support anticipated future growth.

Phoenix attracts workers from all over the world and is developing its own talent right here at home through higher education opportunities as well as in research and development efforts at some of the top global companies. We are a young, well-educated market that works hard to stay relevant, meeting the needs of today's ever-changing workforce. The affordable Phoenix lifestyle keeps wages at very competitive levels. Just as importantly, workers appreciate the livability of Phoenix, enjoying the career opportunities and lifestyle that affords balance.
