Town of Clinton

Clinton, New Jersey, boasts a vibrant business community centered in its charming downtown district. This historic area, established in 1865, is known for its blend of over 80 small businesses, including boutique shops, award-winning restaurants, and unique services. Anchored by the iconic Red Mill Museum Village and the Hunterdon Art Museum, the district provides a cultural hub that draws both locals and visitors. Events like Dickens' Days and "Come Together" Friday nights further enhance its appeal. The business community thrives under the support of The Clinton Guild, a group dedicated to promoting the area and organizing activities to attract visitors.
