NORTHERN LIBERTIES

The neighborhood lies a little over a mile north of Old City and about two miles from City Hall, which is considered the centermost point of Center City. Its approximate borders: Girard Avenue to the north, Callowhill Street to the south, 6th Street to the west and the Delaware River to the east. To get from Center City to Northern Liberties, people can hop in a cab or take “the El”—SEPTA’s Market-Frankford Line, called “the El” because it rides above ground (or elevated) when it’s outside of the main downtown area—from any of the Market Street stations to Spring Garden Station.
