2201 W CAMBRIA STREET

Allegheny West, Philadelphia 19132

About the Neighborhood: Allegheny West

Allegheny West is a historic, walkable neighborhood in North Philadelphia, about three miles north of the Liberty Bell. Known for its early 20th-century brick and Italianate row houses—some with covered porches—and Gothic Revival churches, the area also includes apartments, single-family homes, and townhomes. Streets follow a grid with sidewalks, street parking, and easy access to SEPTA buses, regional rail, and the Broad Street subway, making Center City and U.S. Route 13 easily reachable.

Bordered by the Roosevelt Expressway, the Schuylkill River, West Lehigh Avenue, and part of North Broad Street, Allegheny West features several vacant industrial sites now used for film and television productions. The neighborhood is supported by the Allegheny West Foundation, which hosts food drives, cleanups, and community resources. Parks like Panati Playground and 29th & Chalmers Park offer play areas, sports courts, and green space, while the Schuylkill River Trail provides biking and jogging paths.

Dining ranges from corner markets and casual takeout to local favorites like Max's Steaks, Bob's House of Crabs, and In Riva. Schools include public, KIPP charter, and the private, tuition-free St. James School. Overall, Allegheny West combines historic charm, affordable city living, and a strong community spirit with convenient access to Philadelphia's urban core.
