

DREAMS AREN'T MEASURED BY THE SQUARE FOOT.

It's the feeling you get when pulling up the driveway after a long day at work. Having friends over for a BBQ on a summer evening, or drawing pencil lines on the door frame to see how tall your child has grown over the years. You can't measure just how much people love having a home that speaks to them because every dream is different. It goes beyond how many windows there are, the style of the kitchen countertops or the colors on the walls. And yet, all those moments are made possible because we begin by listening and working together to realize your dream home. █ Creekside Homes was created in 2009 because we saw the home market wasn't being satisfied. We found that far too many homes were built to suit the masses, but didn't fit what the buyer really wanted. Our goal is to change all that by creating custom homes and renovations that are energy efficient, comfortable, easy to operate and work for you. We combine technology in our components, sensibility in our designs and innovation in our resources. More importantly, we take the time to sit down with you to discuss specifically what your dream home would be. Then we build it for you. After all, not every dream is the same.
