PROPERTY DESCRIPTION

PROPERTY DESCRIPTION

Experience a rare opportunity to own a prominent historic corner building at 1425 S. Flores Street, located in the heart of San Antonio's rapidly transforming SoFlo District. This two-story structure, dating back to the early 1900s and part of a locally designated historic block, features original architectural detailing, excellent visibility, and prime corner positioning at S. Flores and Cevallos. Surrounded by new residential and retail developments, including Southtown Aldea and the upcoming Chef Johnny Hernández Southtown Food Hall, the property is ideally suited for restaurant, retail, gallery, creative office, or boutique mixed-use redevelopment. With its authentic character and unbeatable location, this asset represents a rare chance to make a lasting impact in one of the city's most dynamic urban neighborhood

SITE DESCRIPTION

Situated on a highly visible corner along S. Flores Street, the property is surrounded by cultural, culinary, and residential energy. Within a 5-minute walk, multiple catalytic projects are reshaping the area—including Southtown Aldea (a Pearl-developer mixed-use hub), the new Johnny Hernández Food Hall, and several adaptive reuse infill projects. The site is just minutes from Downtown, Hemisfair, and UTSA's Downtown Campus, providing easy access to major arterials, public transit, and pedestrian traffic. Its walkable location at the crossroads of major growth corridors makes it an ideal destination for retailers, restaurateurs, and creative users.
