Osage Park

Osage Park is a vibrant urban destination where nature and recreation come together. Stroll the floating boardwalks through the park's wetland ecosystem, let your pup run free at the expansive dog park, enjoy a match at the 8-court pickleball complex, or experience one-of-a-kind programming at The Quiver Archery Range.

The mission was to provide a unique urban park that blends natural beauty, outdoor adventure, and inspiring spaces that take flight. The park strives to connect the community with the Ozark wetlands, outdoor recreation, and the spirit of flight.

8th Street Gateway Park

8th Street Gateway Park is a nearly 100-acre urban park in Bentonville, designed to blend outdoor recreation with ecological restoration. The park will feature beginner-friendly mountain bike trails, a world-class skatepark, nature-inspired playgrounds, a great lawn, and event plazas, while also restoring wetlands, meadows, and woodlands. Serving as a western anchor for the city's trail network, it will connect to Coler Preserve, Osage Park, and beyond with more than 12 miles of paths. Construction is underway with an expected opening in late 2026, positioning the park as Bentonville's version of a "Central Park."
