OF DENVER'S CENTRAL BUSINESS DISTRICT

Prism is an iconic boutique Class A office tower in the heart of Denver's vibrant Central Business District. Featuring distinctive folded glass architecture, the building stands apart from surrounding downtown properties. The project includes 94,000 square feet of Class A office space, leased to a strong roster of established tenants.

Adjacent to Prism is The Quincy, a premier Shea Properties development offering 359 luxury apartment residences. The Quincy ranks among Downtown Denver's most upscale multifamily communities.

Located next to Hotel Monaco and immersed in Denver's top dining, hospitality, art, and entertainment destinations, this second-generation restaurant space presents an exceptional opportunity for high-caliber food and beverage operators.

THE MILE HIGH ADVANTAGE

From bustling airports and booming tourism to a vibrant, food-loving local community, Denver is hungry for more. The Mile High City combines opportunity, culture, and spending power making it a prime spot for restaurant success.

DEMAND DRIVERS

- Record airport throughput: Denver International Airport handled 82.36M passengers in 2024 (all-time high, +5.8% YoY) — a steady pipeline of diners through a major U.S. hub. (Denver International Airport)
- Tourism holding at historic peaks: 37.1M visitors in 2024, generating $10.3B in visitor spending that directly benefits restaurants; tourism supports ±73,500 metro jobs. (Denver Gov)

SPENDING POWER & TARGETABLE DEMOGRAPHICS

- Young, educated, and high-earning customer base: City median age of 35.4 with 57.9% holding a bachelor’s degree or higher, supported by a strong presence of high-paying careers in the tech sector and oil & gas industry — a demographic profile correlated with higher “food-away-from-home” spend. (Census Reporter)
- Income to support dining out: Denver city median household income: $142,881 (Esri)

CULINARY MOMENTUM

- MICHELIN recognition draws destination diners: In 2025, Denver’s The Wolf’s Tailor earned Colorado’s first-ever two-star rating; several other Denver restaurants hold stars/Bib awards — strong national visibility for the scene. (MICHELIN Guide)
