EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

Cushman & Wakefield has been exclusively retained to sell the condominium ownership interest in ground floor space with a private entrance, the entire sixth (6th), seventh (7th) and eighth (8th) floors at 40 Rector Street ("The Property"). Located in the heart of Lower Manhattan, the building is in close proximity to the newly redeveloped World Trade Center site and Brookfield Place with access to many subways, the PATH train and several ferry lines. This ownership opportunity would provide most non-profits and government entities an exemption from paying real estate taxes. The space is built-out as a modern higher-education installation with a ground floor multi-function room (including a public assembly permit), 31 classrooms, 118 offices, 5 computer labs, a large library, student lounge, 5 conference rooms, multiple server/IT rooms, 4 pantries, 12 single restrooms and 8 communal restrooms.

Offer includes a partial 6,719 GSF high-ceilinged ground floor premises currently serving as a dedicated entrance at 60 West Street, office, and event space along with building signage and two dedicated elevators.
