INVESTMENT OVERVIEW

INVESTMENT OVERVIEW

The property consists of five well-configured residential units, including a large 4-bedroom/2-bath unit with small deck (currently vacant), a spacious 3-bedroom/1-bath, a 2-bedroom/1-bath, a 1-bedroom/1-bath, and a studio apartment. To the rear of the building is a patio area for use by all tenants in the building. The entire bottom floor consists of a massive currently vacant and unrented three car garage (up to five-car with tandem parking), with a large common laundry room with two washers and two dryers on lease. The superior building configuration and layout supports a mix of tenant profiles, including families, professionals working in the nearby medical and tech corridors, graduate students, and young urban renters seeking a premium neighborhood lifestyle.

Positioned on a quiet block of Sacramento Street, the building is surrounded by some of San Francisco's most attractive amenities. Residents enjoy being a half-block to Divisadero Street, and three-and-a-half blocks to Fillmore, providing immediate access to Fillmore Street's vibrant shopping and dining district, nearby open green spaces including Lafayette Park and Alta Plaza Park, and proximity to major medical campuses such as UCSF and Sutter Health's CPMC. Excellent public transit options and tech shuttle stops are located within walking distance, offering seamless connectivity to downtown San Francisco, the Financial District, and major employment hubs across the Bay Area. With strong in-place rental income, low historical vacancy, and potential upside through interior upgrades or repositioning, 2850 Sacramento represents a rare, low-density multifamily investment with long-term value in a supply-constrained submarket. The property's Pacific Heights location—known for its high median household income, strong school district, and enduring tenant demand—makes this asset an exceptional addition to any investor's portfolio. For those seeking stable cash flow, capital preservation, and future appreciation in a prime San Francisco location, this offering checks all the boxes.

PROPERTY HIGHLIGHTS:

- Move-in ready top floor owner's unit with huge 3-car (5-car with tandem parking) garage.
- Walk to UCSF Medical Center and Sutter Health campuses
- Diverse tenant appeal near boutique retail, dining, and fitness amenities.
- Strong local school options and neighborhood parks enhance long-term demand. Located in a high-income, low-turnover rental pocket of Pacific Heights.
