CHEMULT, OR

Nestled 30 miles from Crater Lake National Park along U.S. Highway 97, Chemult beckons with its year-round outdoor charm. A minute south lies the Walt Haring Sno-Park, historically tied to the famous Chemult Sled Dog Races. Winter transforms the town into a snow-covered paradise, offering groomed trails for snowmobiling, cross-country skiing, and more, including the Miller Lake Trail loop for hikers.

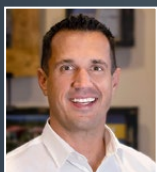

Come summer, Chemult evolves into a hub for hiking, biking, bird watching, camping, boating, and fishing. The town is a gateway to outdoor adventures, with the Pacific Crest National Scenic Trail and Maidu Trail accessible from the Miller Lake area.

For hunting enthusiasts, Chemult is a prime destination for deer and elk, boasting Forest Service Roads with secluded spots for dispersed camping. Less than 50 miles away, the KLA-MO-YA Casino offers entertainment and a change of pace.

Reflecting on its past and present, Chemult warmly welcomes visitors. The town's intimate size and friendly atmosphere make it an inviting basecamp for exploring the wonders of Crater Lake National Park and the surrounding region. With Amtrak making twice-daily stops, travelers can experience breathtaking views en route to and from the Chemult Amtrak Station, adding to the town's accessibility and charm. Whether blanketed in snow or bathed in summer sunshine, Chemult beckons all to partake in the beauty and adventure that define this Oregon gem.
