The Vernon Advantage

- Abundant labor pool
- Proximity to Downtown Los Angeles
- Proximity to major airports, rail, and the San Pedro Bay Port Complex

A Diversified Future

As the city evolves, it is broadening its sights and attracting a variety of businesses including:

- ✓ Mixed-Use Residential
- ✓ Stand-alone Retail
- ✓ Health and Wellness Retail (like fitness centers and yoga studios)
- ✓ Clean Commerce

Vernon's north-western border is adjacent to the Downtown LA Arts District which presents a unique opportunity to curate a neighborhood filled with all sizes and types of retail from big-box to artisanal production. We welcome high-profile chains and "mom and pop" operations.

The city is rapidly changing and poised to quintuple its population in the next two to three years. Currently in the queue are four separate mixed-use residential developments.

The first is anticipated to bring approximately 500 residential units zoned to combine with retail, restaurants, and open space. Proposed projects are projected to increase the available residential units in the city to 2,000 in five years' time.

Vernon has created a culture of innovation, entrepreneurship, and a resource-rich business environment and it's taking that forward-thinking approach to cultivate a complementary residential community.
