CITY/AREA INFORMATION

Known as the "Venice of America", Fort Lauderdale has 165 miles of inland waterways across the city.

In addition to tourism, Fort Lauderdale has a diversified economy including marine, manufacturing, finance, insurance, real estate, high technology, avionics/aerospace, film, and television production. The city is a popular tourist destination with an average year-round temperature of 75.5 °F (24.2 °C) and 3,000 hours of sunshine per year.

Greater Fort Lauderdale hosted more than 13 million overnight visitors in 2018. Each year nearly four million cruise passengers pass through its Port Everglades, making it the third largest cruise port in the world.

With over 50,000 registered yachts and 100 marinas, Fort Lauderdale is also known as "the yachting capital of the world."

Quaint Victoria Park is an upscale residential area reminiscent of Old Florida, with luxury estates and traditional 1930s "cracker" houses. Holiday Park has jogging trails, tennis courts, and playing fields, while Victoria Park draws water sports enthusiasts for kayaking and stand-up paddleboarding.

Victoria Park, is a historic neighborhood offering a mix of traditional homes and modern townhomes, all set amidst lush greenery and beautiful parks.

One of the highlights of Victoria Park is its stunning architecture. From historic homes with traditional details to modern townhomes with sleek lines, the neighborhood offers a wide range of styles to choose from.

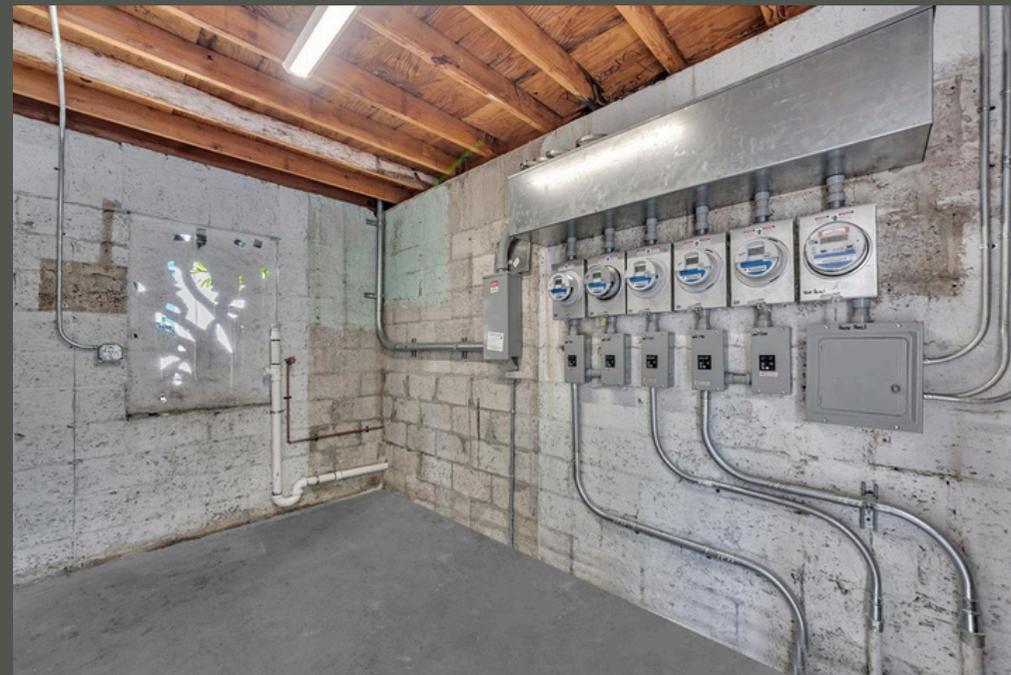

Victoria Park is only a short walk from the famous beachfront promenade, the historic Riverwalk and well known Las Olas, for some shopping and dining.

Victoria Park is a charming and picturesque neighborhood that offers the best of both worlds: a quiet and peaceful atmosphere with easy access to all the excitement and amenities of the city.
