A diagram illustrating a 2D convolutional layer. The input is a 4x4 gray square divided into 16 smaller squares. A 3x3 red square, representing the kernel, is applied to the top-left 3x3 block of the input. The output is a 2x2 gray square divided into 4 smaller squares, representing the stride 2 output of the kernel. The diagram shows the receptive field of each output unit and the stride of the kernel.

SUITE 590

The image shows a detailed architectural floor plan of a building section. A vertical red line runs through the center, separating two adjacent units. The unit on the left is labeled 'SUITE 560' and the unit on the right is labeled 'SUITE 570'. Both suites contain various rooms, windows, and door symbols. The plan is rendered in black and white with red highlights for the boundary line and some internal features.
