ZONING INFORMATION

Heavy Commercial (C4)

C4 zoning in Mountain Home, Idaho, is designated as the Heavy Commercial district, intended for the city's largest and most robust business activities. This zoning district permits all uses allowed in other commercial zones and additionally allows for businesses needing large parcels, such as auto and equipment sales, wholesale operations, warehouses, and light manufacturing alongside retail sales.

Developments in the C4 district typically occur along major commercial corridors such as Highway 30 and Airbase Highway, supporting larger-scale enterprises and operations that may require outdoor storage, extensive parking, and higher traffic volumes. Businesses in this zone can have outdoor storage—which is allowed in rear yards and sometimes in side yards, provided it doesn't front opposing streets—and any such storage is required to be screened to minimize visual impacts.

The intent behind C4 zoning is to concentrate heavy commercial activities in strategic areas with access to transportation infrastructure while separating them from more sensitive residential and community areas. This allows Mountain Home to facilitate economic growth in commerce and industry without negatively affecting its residential neighborhoods, providing clear standards regarding landscaping, signage, and building placement to ensure compatibility with surrounding uses.
