Boca Raton Market Overview

Boca Raton is ideally located near every major city in South Florida, only 30 miles south of West Palm Beach, 20 miles north of Fort Lauderdale, and 60 miles north of Miami. Geographically, the city encompasses 29.6 square miles. Boca Raton has five miles of ocean frontage with a park system covering approximately 1,080 acres. Boca Raton is conveniently situated between the Palm Beach International Airport and the Fort Lauderdale-Hollywood International Airport. In addition, the Boca Raton Airport is one of six high activity general aviation airports in the metropolitan area. Interstate 95 runs north and south through the city, with four Boca Raton exits, and Florida's Turnpike runs parallel to I-95 with an exit in Boca Raton off Glades Road.

With a current population of 99,376 residents, Boca Raton is the 26th most populous city in the state of Florida and the second largest city in Palm Beach County. Boca Raton is considered one of the most affluent areas in the United States with an average household income of $157,859. The city is also a highly educated community with 56.9 percent of residents having a bachelor's degree or higher. Boca Raton has become a mecca for innovative development, using a well-educated, computer literate community as its base. The City is home to many corporate and regional headquarters, including those belonging to NCCI, Tyco, Office Depot, ADT and Canon.

Boca Raton continues to be a popular destination for tourists, both domestic and international. From beautiful beaches and wonderful weather to Class A amenities and extraordinary shopping and dining destinations, Boca Raton is an international destination that offers people the finest in leisure and recreation. As the city has matured, Boca Raton is getting high marks for much more than its great weather and sunny beaches. Today's Boca Raton looks more like an established, vibrant city, offering a growing menu of cultural, educational and recreational venues. Quality of life, an educated work force, superior infrastructure and proximity to two major international airports make Boca Raton a premier destination in South Florida.
