Market OVERVIEW

Pompano Beach at a Glance

Positioned strategically between Palm Beach and Miami, Pompano Beach, known as “The Heart of the Gold Coast,” has experienced substantial growth. Its resident population, now exceeding 114,000, has surged by 15.1% in the last decade, with seasonal peaks reaching 150,000. This expansion is accompanied by increasing affluence, as evidenced by a 2024 average household income of $93,901, projected to rise to $111,816 by 2029, a 19.1% increase. Furthermore, Pompano Beach benefits from a well-educated populace, with 33.7% of residents holding a bachelor’s degree or higher.

Due to its reputation for excellent boating and fishing, accentuated by an offshore living coral reef accessible to scuba divers and snorkelers, Pompano Beach blends Old Florida charm with modern development. Recent investments have revitalized the city, particularly the Fisher Family Pier, a hub for recreation with beaches, dining, and nightlife. The city boasts the Pompano Beach Fishing Rodeo, the Pompano Amphitheater (“The Amp”) with its expansive event space, a golf course, and an equestrian park, offering diverse entertainment options.

Pompano Beach offers a diverse retail and dining scene. The Atlantic Boulevard corridor provides a variety of culinary experiences, from American and Italian to German cuisine. The Pompano Beach Fishing Village, a modern entertainment and commercial area surrounding the Fisher Family Pier, features waterfront dining, notably The Beach House and Oceanic. This area caters to a broad audience, offering both lively and relaxed nightlife.

The economic revitalization of the city is centered around Downtown Pompano Beach, with the “Future Downtown” plan aimed at creating a pedestrian-friendly urban hub featuring housing, retail spaces, and a new City Hall. In addition, “The Pomp,” a large-scale mixed-use development anchored by the renovated Harrah’s casino, is currently in the planning stages. This project promises to bring thousands of residential units, along with millions of square feet of retail, entertainment, and office spaces. As of late 2024, the city is in the bidding process, marking the beginning of construction. The beach community is also seeing the addition of several upscale hotels, including the W Pompano Beach Hotel & Residences, the Waldorf Astoria Residences Pompano Beach, and the Ritz Carlton Residences.
