HEALTHCARE

- Northeast Georgia Medical Center (NGMC) in Gainesville has been named one of America's 50 Best Hospitals for 2013 by Healthgrades® and is the only hospital in Georgia named to the list. To make the list, hospitals must have had risk-adjusted mortality and complication rates that were among the lowest 5% in the nation for a minimum of seven years.
- In addition to America's 50 Best, Healthgrades® also rated NGMC #1 in Georgia for General Surgery, Cardiology and Gastrointestinal Services and in the top 5% in the nation for Coronary Interventional Procedures, Critical Care, Pulmonary Services and Women's Health. NGMC also received the Joint Replacement Excellence Award and the Distinguished Hospital Award for Clinical Excellence.
- NGMC was also named a 100 Top Hospitals® award winner for 2013 by Truven Health Analytics, formerly the healthcare business of Thomson Reuters. NGMC is one of only 20 "Large Community Hospitals" selected and the only hospital in Georgia to make the list in any category.
- Construction is underway for the new Northeast Georgia Medical Center Braselton, set to open in Spring 2015 in South Hall County. The 100-bed hospital will serve the healthcare needs of this growing community.
- NGMC Braselton will be located on a 119-acre tract of land called River Place. A 100,000-square-foot medical office building already anchors this healthcare campus that includes an urgent care center, imaging center, physical and occupational therapy, and 27 physician offices representing 22 medical specialties. A second medical office building, to be located adjacent to the new NGMC Braselton, will open in early 2015 just prior to the hospital opening.
- Northeast Georgia Health System (NGHS) opened a new medical office building, Medical Plaza 400, in Dawsonville. The multi-specialty building will house an urgent care center, imaging center, outpatient lab and physician offices representing numerous specialties.
- NGHS was named one of Metro Atlanta's Top 100 Workplaces by the Atlanta Journal Constitution for 2011 and 2012, placing as one of 20 in the large company category.
- The Cancer Center at NGMC is accredited with commendation by the American College of Surgeons Commission on Cancer.
- Northeast Georgia Heart Center was awarded Heart/Stroke Recognition through the Heart/Stroke Recognition Program of the National Committee for Quality Assurance, a national program that recognizes physicians and physician groups who provide high-quality cardiovascular or stroke care.
- 55 new physicians joined the staff at NGMC in 2011. More than 500 physicians, representing more than 50 specialties, are currently on staff at NGMC.
- Northeast Georgia Medical Center is the seventh largest hospital in the state based on bed size, with 557 inpatient beds.
- NGMC is home to the fourth-busiest Emergency Department in the state. NGMC's Women and Children's Center ranks sixth in the state in number of deliveries.
- NGMC has achieved Stage 6 designation of the Health Information and Management Systems Society (HIMSS) Analytics™ Hospital Electronic Medical Record (EMR) Adoption Model. This distinction honors NGMC's accomplishments in implementing technology solutions to improve patient safety and quality of care.
- NGHS was on the InformationWeek 500 lists for 2011 and 2012, an annual listing of the nation's most innovative users of business information technology (IT).
- NGHS is participating in a $20.75 million Health Care Innovation Challenge grant from The Center for Medicare & Medicaid Innovation for a multi-community partnership project to develop patient centered medical neighborhoods, which will connect acute care hospitals with primary care, specialty and subspecialty practices to drive better quality and superior patient experience at a more affordable cost.
- Three physician groups based in Hall County – The Longstreet Clinic, Northeast Georgia Physicians Group and Northeast Georgia Diagnostic Clinic – are listed in Atlanta's "Top 25 Physician Group Practices" by the Atlanta Business Chronicle.

EDUCATION

- Three Gainesville-Hall County institutions – Brenau University, University of North Georgia (UNG) and Lanier Technical College – are at record enrollment, with a combined enrollment of more than 16,000 students.
- Brenau began repurposing the Georgia Mountains Center in 2013 as Brenau Downtown Center to house multiple professional healthcare master's and doctoral degree programs. The 135-year-old, private, liberal arts university based in Gainesville generates close to 800 jobs and provides about $92 million in economic impact annually. That impact is expected to grow to $150 million when the Downtown Center is fully operational.
- University of North Georgia Gainesville's new five-story, 130,000-square-foot academic building is located on a 144-acre site and houses the college's School of Humanities and Fine Arts and the School of Business, Education, Health and Wellness. The economic impact of the UNG Gainesville Campus in 2011 reached $206 million and generated 2,250 jobs.
- Lanier Technical College, a unit of the Technical College System of Georgia, provides technical education, customized industry training and adult education. Lanier Tech is home to the Georgia Advanced Manufacturing Technology Center with technologies in automation, controls and robotics and received the Gold-standard of accreditation in December 2011.

With the merger of Gainesville State College and North Georgia State College & University, the new University of North Georgia now has campuses in Cumming, Dahlonega, Gainesville and Oconee and over 15,000 students.

- UNG Dahlonega had a regional economic impact of more than $171 million and accounted for 1,917 jobs in a six-county area in fiscal year 2011. Expansion of its strategic language programs earned the university designation in 2011 as an ROTC flagship institution.
- Lanier Charter Career Academy, a part of the Hall County School System, offers non-traditional students the opportunity to earn a high school degree and develop career skills in digital marketing, culinary arts, cosmetology and hospitality. The Oaks is Lanier Charter Career Academy's 24,000-square-foot facility with a student-operated gift shop, design center and café providing hands-on learning.
- There are 11 private schools in Gainesville-Hall County, including Lakeview Academy, Riverside Military Academy and North Georgia Christian School.
- One of 11 charter schools for the Hall County School System, The World Language Academy provides an immersion language school with curriculum in Spanish, English and Mandarin Chinese. The DaVinci Academy provides in-depth learning in the arts, sciences and technology, and it is one of 12 programs of choice in the Hall County School System, including three International Baccalaureate programs and the new Science, Technology and Math (STEM) program.
- Gainesville City Schools includes eight charter schools, an International Baccalaureate Program and focused programs in math and science, language, leadership, the arts and robotics. The Gainesville City School system offers open enrollment for parent choice.
- In 2013, Elachee Nature Science Center will open a nature-based preschool for 3 to 5 year olds. This innovative preschool will be the first of this type in Georgia and the Southeast, where children will spend over 50% of their time learning outdoors.
- Gainesville City and Hall County Schools offer apprenticeship opportunities with local businesses through career preparation academies at Wood's Mill and Lanier Career Academy in addition to apprenticeships at businesses through traditional high schools in both systems.

REDEVELOPMENT

- Midtown Gainesville is being redeveloped with the help of a TAD (Tax Allocation District) and an Opportunity Zone.
- The first phase of the Midtown Greenway is complete with a pathway connecting Downtown Gainesville and Rock Creek Greenway to the University of North Georgia and Elachee Nature Science Center.
- The cities of Flowery Branch and Oakwood are redeveloping their downtown areas with Tax Allocation District designations. Both cities are planning for future growth around the Thurmon Tanner Parkway corridor.
- A pedestrian bridge was completed connecting Gainesville's Downtown businesses with Midtown developments, to include the construction of a hotel-conference center, a parking garage and office buildings with retail and restaurants.
- In downtown Gainesville, Brenau University's Center for Graduate School programs in physical therapy and pharmaceutical technology is under construction in 2013. Brenau anticipates 700 graduate students will be enrolled at the center.
- Business leaders on the Lanier Islands Parkway corridor in South Hall County are working to establish a Community Improvement District to support improvements on this important tourism and business corridor.

Road Atlanta attracts 320,000 visitors annually and will host the 16th Petit Le Mans in fall 2013, drawing some 150,000 visitors from around the world.

TOURISM

- Lake Lanier Islands Resort, a world-class 1,500-acre property in South Hall County, completed Lanier World and Phase II of its investment in the Legacy Lodge Hotel and Conference Center, golf course improvements, harbor development, an outdoor concert venue, and a health spa. The resort, 35 minutes from Atlanta, employs 400 people and is included in a new Community Improvement District.
- Don Carter State Park opens in 2013 on Lake Lanier just north of the Lake Lanier Olympic Center. The first state park in Hall County will feature eight cabins, RV and camp sites, boat ramps, a beach area, trails and other park amenities on more than 1,000 acres on the shores of Lake Sidney Lanier.
- The Lake Lanier Olympic Center, home to the 1996 Atlanta Centennial Olympic Games, continues to host many national and international rowing and canoe/kayak events.
- The top ranked Atlanta Falcons National Football League team is headquartered in Flowery Branch.
- Road Atlanta, a 2.54-mile International Grand Prix course, attracts 320,000 visitors annually. Road Atlanta will host the 16th Petit Le Mans in fall 2013, drawing some 150,000 visitors from around the world.
- Smithgall Woodland Garden, a 190-acre preserve in the City of Gainesville and part of Atlanta Botanical Garden, has completed its $20 million campaign to develop the garden with a visitor's center, children's garden, amphitheater and pavilions. Smithgall Woodland Garden is scheduled to open to the public in early 2014.
- Elachee Nature Science Center, located in the Chicopee Woods Park, consists of a 1,500-acre forest nature preserve with 13 miles of hiking trails. The preserve serves as a plant and animal sanctuary and an ideal outdoor classroom. Elachee houses an interactive museum that educates visitors of all ages.
- Interactive Neighborhood for Kids (INK) is a hands-on Children's Museum with more than 20 exhibits in 20,000-square-feet of the Featherbone Communitiversity, located in Midtown Gainesville.

POPULATION

- Gainesville-Hall County's population continued to grow at an estimated 3% from 2010 to 2012. The 2013 estimated population of Gainesville-Hall County is 188,197.
- In 2012, the U.S. Census Bureau identified the Gainesville-Hall County MSA as one of the top 50 fastest growing metropolitan areas in the United States.

Construction is underway for the new Northeast Georgia Medical Center Braselton, set to open in Spring 2015 in South Hall County. The new 100-bed hospital is the first built in Georgia in 20 years and will serve the growing South Hall population.

VISION 2030

- The Greater Hall Chamber VISION 2030 program was initiated in 2005 when over 1,000 Gainesville-Hall County citizens came together to describe the community they'd like to live, work and raise families in with a "common vision." The result is a blueprint for success for Gainesville-Hall County – a set of long-term goals now in place called the "Big Ideas."
- Big Ideas include: a Harbor Town development on Lake Lanier, additional greenspace and a community diversity program. Recently completed initiatives include a new senior leadership program, the Wisdom Project, a public art program in the community, and a VISION 2030 website – www.vision2030.org

The VISION 2030 Board of Directors has formed over a dozen work groups engaging more than 100 community volunteers to make the "Big Ideas" a reality.

HALLmark 2010-2015: The Next Generation

- The Greater Hall Chamber of Commerce has secured major investments in its aggressive, five-year economic development plan for Gainesville-Hall County – HALLmark 2010-2015: The Next Generation. Over 155 business investors across the community are investing $2.3 million in the program to ensure the economic viability of our region.
- The benefits of HALLmark include high quality jobs; a stable and growing tax base; the protection of existing investments; and an unparalleled quality of life. HALLmark five-year program goals seeks to create 1,700 new jobs with $250 million in capital investment, $60 million in new annual payroll, and the Gainesville MSA's unemployment rate below that of the state and nation. Economic Development and VISION 2030 are funded through HALLmark.
