Fort Smith, Arkansas

Fort Smith is the third-largest city in Arkansas and is situated along the Arkansas River, across from the Oklahoma state border. It is Arkansas' manufacturing hub and was recently selected by the U.S. Air Force as the new home of the Foreign Military Sales Pilot Training Center. The new training center is projected to have an annual economic impact of $800 million to $1 billion.

The region has a long history of hardworking individuals across industries, including agriculture, construction, manufacturing, distribution, food processing, electronics, healthcare, and more. In addition to its qualified workforce, Fort Smith's cost of living is approximately 14% below the national average.

Fort Smith's unique origin as a western frontier military post in 1817 underpins its growing recreation and tourism industry. Downtown Fort Smith has experienced rapid revitalization in recent years, with numerous new buildings and projects. Notably, "The Unexpected" is a public art initiative that brings urban and contemporary art to Arkansas. The initiative culminates in an annual week-long event in downtown Fort Smith.
