Re: A Cultural Resource Assessment Survey of the 10.61-Acre Timber Racetrack Road Development Property, St. Johns County, Florida.

Dear Mr. Ste. Claire:

This office reviewed the above referenced report on March 15, 2014 in accordance with St. Johns County's Land Development Code regulations Section 3.01.05. The report was reviewed for conformance with the Florida Division of Historical Resources' Standards and Guidelines for Cultural Resource Assessment Survey reports, which is the standard the county uses for archaeological survey reports.

Review of this project indicates that the fieldwork conforms to these standards and the report is complete and sufficient. No historic resources were identified that will be adversely affected by the proposed construction and no further investigation is needed with regards to historic resources.

This office concurs with the determinations of the report and finds the archaeological work for this project complete. One of the original copies of this report received by this department will be forwarded to the Florida Master Site File for their records.

Thank you for contributing to the identification of the county's historic resources. Please contact me if you have any further questions regarding these comments, or regarding the County's Cultural Resources Program in general.

Sincerely,
