Here's what we've put into Assembly Park.

Designed by the globally acclaimed Michael Hsu Office of Architecture and GFF Architects, the former Plano Market Square Mall has been reimagined as a vibrant, interconnected 26.4 acre neighborhood with an energy unlike anything found in Dallas-Fort Worth.

Designed for varied work styles.

The artfully designed central concourse encourages collaboration and big ideas with multiple options for unscheduled brainstorming sessions, a teleconference, or just a casual gathering.

State-of-the-art public and private community workspaces.

Shared library and huddle rooms for focused productivity.

Community coffee bar with kombucha on tap and light bites.

Secured and direct access to individual office space.

Creative Office Availabilities

Each office suite surrounding the corridor provides large floor plates with exposed ceilings, skylights, and floor-to-ceiling windows.

Exciting New Food and Beverage Concepts

17,000 SF OF WALKABLE FOOD & BEVERAGE CONCEPTS

Five unique chef-driven dining concepts are slated for arrival at Assembly Park, providing an optimal lunch time refuge or a quick stop for a late day snack.

Assembly Icehouse, Tacoro, and Cliff Coffee are concepts by local hospitality group, Blender Brands, owned by Jacob Cox, Danny Wilson, and JR Muñoz. JR Muñoz, also the owner of Deep Ellum's beloved neighborhood restaurant Will Call, will develop the menus and organize events for the concepts in the West Building. Muñoz is recognized by the Dallas Observer and D Magazine for Best Wings and Best Sandwich in Dallas-Fort Worth.

NIWA Japanese BBQ will anchor the East retail component with an additional Italian concept now under LOI.

PROJECT TEAM

We've done this before.

Our team has succeeded in breathing new life into spaces we've shared for decades. The Plano Market Square Mall was built in 1983 and was originally named the Outlet Mall of Americas. In 2020, Triten Real Estate Partners presented a plan revolving around a mixed-use concept that was centered on a large community park. Assembly Park was designed to create that perfect environment to entice and connect with the community. Built with the experience of creating integral community-based destinations, Assembly Park's synergy is based on creating an energizing destination for work and life.

Assembly Park is developed, owned, and managed by
