AREA OVERVIEW

11807 NM-337, Tijeras, NM 87059 | 11

TIJERAS

Tijeras is a small community located in Bernalillo County, New Mexico, situated in the eastern foothills of the Sandia Mountains, approximately 15 miles east of Albuquerque. Keep in mind that the economic conditions and market dynamics in small towns can change over time, so it's important to consult more recent sources for up-to-date information. Here are some factors that might influence the market overview of Tijeras:

Tijeras primarily consists of residential properties, including single-family homes and some ranch-style properties. The real estate market in Tijeras can be influenced by factors such as housing demand, property values, and trends in the broader Albuquerque metropolitan area.

The cost of living in Tijeras may be lower than in larger cities like Albuquerque. This can attract residents looking for a more affordable living situation while still being close to urban amenities.

Tijeras is located near the Cibola National Forest and provides access to outdoor recreational activities like hiking, camping, and mountain biking. Tourism can play a role in the local economy, with businesses such as restaurants, bed and breakfasts, and outdoor equipment rental services benefiting from visitors.

Tijeras is served by schools in the Moriarty-Edgewood School District. Access to education is an important factor for families considering moving to the area. Local small businesses, including shops, restaurants, and services, are a part of the community's economy. The success of these businesses can impact the overall economic health of Tijeras.
