An aerial photograph of a business park. The central focus is a large, two-story office building with a complex, multi-winged footprint. One section of its roof is highlighted in a solid orange color. The building is surrounded by several parking lots filled with cars. To the left, a road is labeled 'WEST BERNARDO COURT'. In the background, there are more industrial-style buildings with orange roofs and a large parking area. The surrounding landscape is filled with green trees and vegetation. The sky is clear and bright.

RANCHO BERNARDO

Rancho Bernardo's central location and accessibility to several arterial freeways, including Interstate 15, provide relatively easy commutes for residents from across San Diego, not to mention distribution routes through the region, both to the coast and Inland Empire. Its proximity to—and discount to—neighboring employment nodes in the UC San Diego area (UTC and Torrey Pines) and Sorrento Mesa make the submarket an attractive alternative for tenants who might be priced out of those areas. One-quarter of Rancho Bernardo residents hold a graduate degree, many with a STEM degree according to census data, and median annual household incomes are above $100,000.
