WELCOME TO THE NEW DOWNTOWN NORTH: AN URBAN INSIGHT DISTRICT

THE GLOBE BUILDING
HI-TECH CASTLE VIDEO

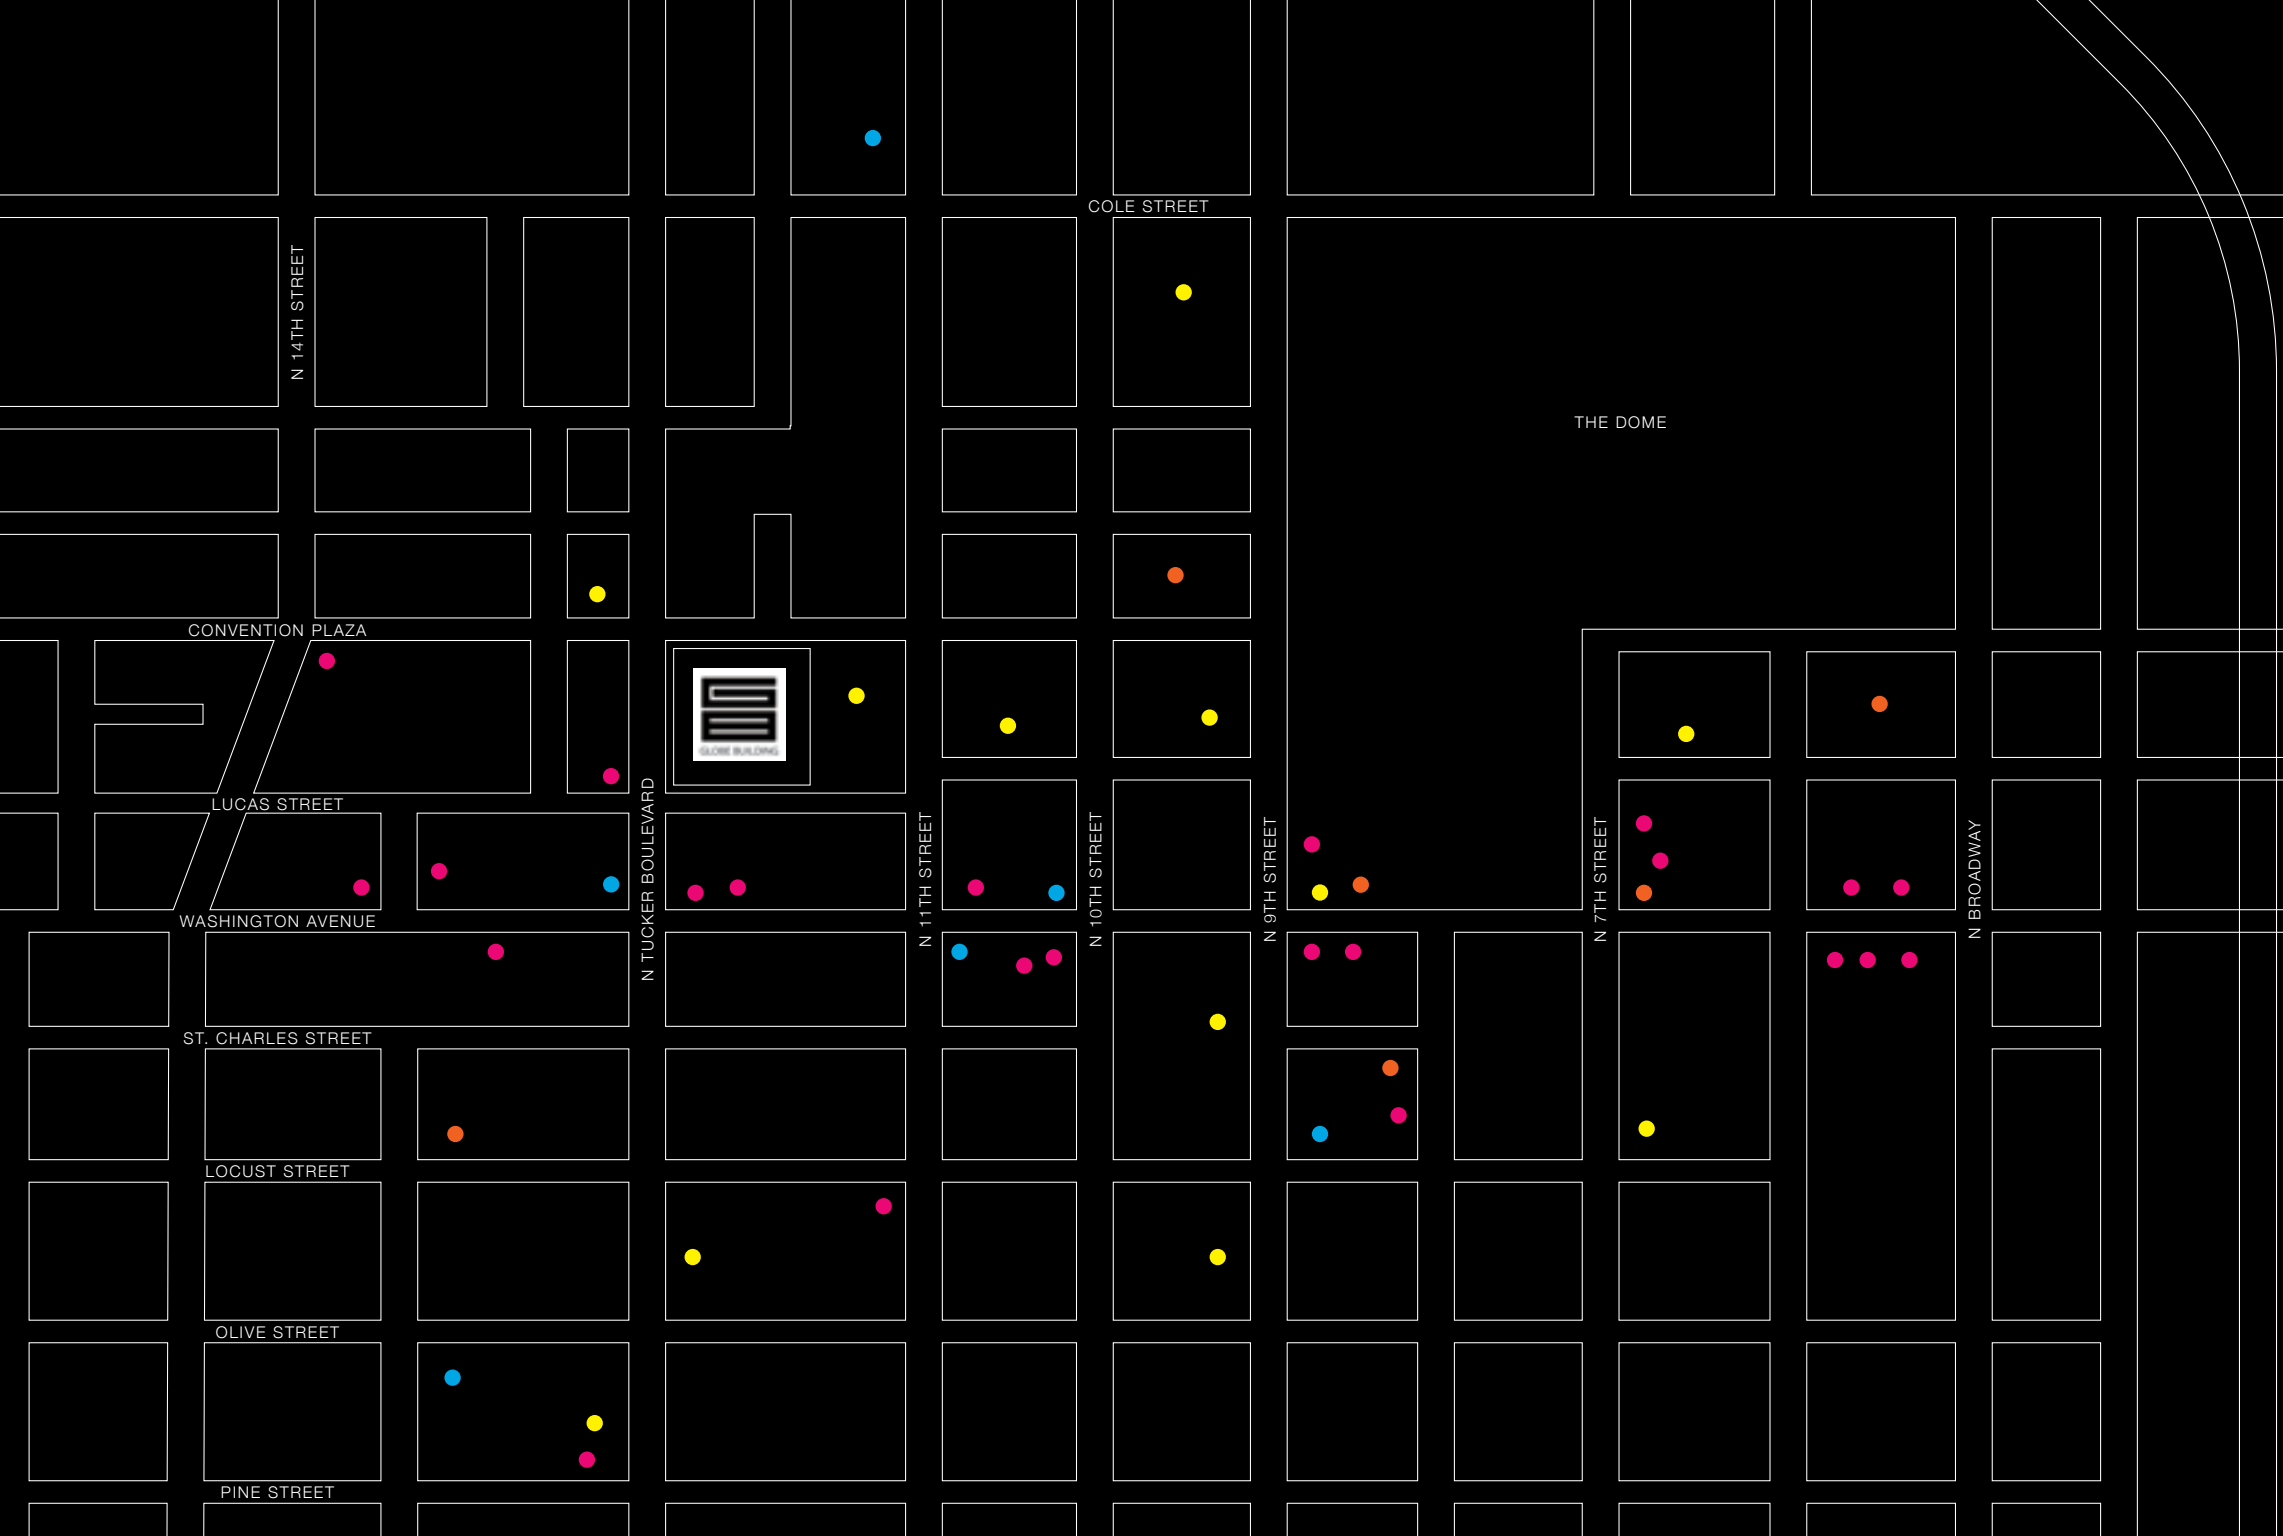

A once vintage industrial building, now turned contemporary landmark, the Globe Building has the most technologically-advanced office space in St. Louis. It is the premier location in the area, providing businesses unparalleled technology resources and an abundance of space to grow and thrive into the future.

The Globe Building, awarded DEVELOPMENT OF THE YEAR by the Mayor and St. Louis Development Corporation

IN THE HEART OF DOWNTOWN ST. LOUIS

The Globe Building is conveniently positioned just one block from Washington Avenue shopping, restaurants, and residential lofts, and 1.4 miles from the new $1.75 Billion National Geospatial-Intelligence Agency (NGA) facility.

- 23 NEARBY RESTAURANTS
 - 6 NEARBY HOTELS
 - 1700 APARTMENT UNITS WITHIN 4 BLOCKS
 - 12 OFF SITE PARKING LOTS
- 3 PER 1000 SF IN-BUILDING PARKING
 - 16 MINUTES TO ST. LOUIS LAMBERT INTERNATIONAL AIRPORT

CONVENIENT PROXIMITY TO THE NEXT NGA WEST CAMPUS

The new $1.75 Billion National Geospatial-Intelligence Agency Headquarters is under construction around the corner from the Globe Building. Proximity to this new facility and the significant development it will support, enables companies to have premier nearby office space with impeccable technology capabilities.

UNSURPASSED STRUCTURAL INTEGRITY AND UNIQUE HISTORICAL CONNECTION TO NGA

Originally built in the 1920's during significant growth in St. Louis, the Globe Building is an architectural icon. Its hand-built, poured-concrete and steel beam infrastructure has supported the logistics of the Illinois Terminal Railroad, the printing presses of the Globe-Democrat, and the vitally important work of NGA's WWII predecessor, the Aeronautical Chart and Information Center.

UNIQUE TECHNOLOGY CAPABILITIES

The Globe Building is a best-in-class urban technology hub. Its newly installed technological upgrades include gigabyte internet speeds from 12 different fiber providers, and a dedicated Ameren Union Electric basement substation with three diverse 13.8 kV utility feeds providing true "A + B" utility power.

BIG FIBER. BIG POWER.

The Globe Building is currently home to five separately owned and operated data centers. Multiple businesses also benefit from seamless access to power and features including redundant fiber entrances, multiple vertical risers, and a Meet Me Room.

NEW GEOSPATIAL INTELLIGENCE TENANTS

The energy being generated as a result of the new NGA facility in North St. Louis is infectious, and the Globe Building is proud that it has been and continues to be integral to that effort—historically, currently, and in the future. Recently four leading geospatial intelligence companies, Maxar, T-Kartor USA, Ball Aerospace and General Dynamics moved their operations into the Globe Building.

HOME TO ADVANCED TECHNOLOGY & SOFTWARE TENANTS

The Globe Buildings vision of modern and innovative work spaces, along with its unparalleled cybersecurity, attracts a rich variety of advanced technology and software companies. Stereotaxis, the global leader in innovative surgical robotics, recently moved its global headquarters to the Globe Building, and MoreAble, the region's leading sales acceleration and business analytics platform provider, selected the Globe Building as its home.
