Great grandfather Pete Piva came to Idaho in 1923 from Olgiasca, a small Italian Village on the northeast shore of Lake Como where Italy welds itself to the Swiss Alps. Pete came to Challis, Idaho to summer range herds of sheep. The majestic Sawtooth Mountain Range must have been reminiscent of home.

Pete's son Bruno Piva is where the name of the restaurant derives from. One of Bruno's grandkids couldn't pronounce his name and so called him Papa Brunee! It stuck! And when Papa Brunee's son Mike opened the restaurant in 1998, Papa Brunee's Pizza and Subs began. This is a local family operation including Aunt Ruby who created the secret pizza sauce recipe still used today.

Currently, Papa Brunee's grandson Josh and his wife Inga run the restaurant. Keep an eye out for their 9- and 6-year-old daughters...the 5th generation is already here!
