 Source: U.S. Census 2019-2023 American Community Survey. Data Note: N/A means not available. Ratio of Income to Poverty Level represents persons for whom poverty status is determined. Household income represents income in 2023, adjusted for inflation.

2019-2023 ACS Estimate: The American Community Survey (ACS) replaces census sample data. Esri is releasing the 2019-2023 ACS estimates, five-year period data collected monthly from January 1, 2019 through December 31, 2023. Although the ACS includes many of the subjects previously covered by the decennial census sample, there are significant differences between the two surveys including fundamental differences in survey design and residency rules.

Margin of error (MOE): The MOE is a measure of the variability of the estimate due to sampling error. MOEs enable the data user to measure the range of uncertainty for each estimate with 90 percent confidence. The range of uncertainty is called the confidence interval, and it is calculated by taking the estimate +/- the MOE. For example, if the ACS reports an estimate of 100 with an MOE of +/- 20, then you can be 90 percent certain the value for the whole population falls between 80 and 120.

Reliability: Symbols represent threshold values Esri has established from the Coefficients of Variation (CV) to designate the usability of the estimates. The CV measures the amount of sampling error relative to the size of the estimate, expressed as a percentage.

-  High Reliability: Small CVs (less than or equal to 12 percent) are flagged green and are considered reasonably reliable.
-  Medium Reliability: Estimates with CVs between 12 and 40 are flagged yellow and should be used with caution.
-  Low Reliability: Large CVs (over 40 percent) are flagged red and are considered very unreliable.

 Source: U.S. Census 2019-2023 American Community Survey. Data Note: N/A means not available. Ratio of Income to Poverty Level represents persons for whom poverty status is determined. Household income represents income in 2023, adjusted for inflation.

2019-2023 ACS Estimate: The American Community Survey (ACS) replaces census sample data. Esri is releasing the 2019-2023 ACS estimates, five-year period data collected monthly from January 1, 2019 through December 31, 2023. Although the ACS includes many of the subjects previously covered by the decennial census sample, there are significant differences between the two surveys including fundamental differences in survey design and residency rules.

Margin of error (MOE): The MOE is a measure of the variability of the estimate due to sampling error. MOEs enable the data user to measure the range of uncertainty for each estimate with 90 percent confidence. The range of uncertainty is called the confidence interval, and it is calculated by taking the estimate +/- the MOE. For example, if the ACS reports an estimate of 100 with an MOE of +/- 20, then you can be 90 percent certain the value for the whole population falls between 80 and 120.

Reliability: Symbols represent threshold values Esri has established from the Coefficients of Variation (CV) to designate the usability of the estimates. The CV measures the amount of sampling error relative to the size of the estimate, expressed as a percentage.

-  High Reliability: Small CVs (less than or equal to 12 percent) are flagged green and are considered reasonably reliable.
-  Medium Reliability: Estimates with CVs between 12 and 40 are flagged yellow and should be used with caution.
-  Low Reliability: Large CVs (over 40 percent) are flagged red and are considered very unreliable.

 Source: U.S. Census 2019-2023 American Community Survey. Data Note: N/A means not available. Ratio of Income to Poverty Level represents persons for whom poverty status is determined. Household income represents income in 2023, adjusted for inflation.

2019-2023 ACS Estimate: The American Community Survey (ACS) replaces census sample data. Esri is releasing the 2019-2023 ACS estimates, five-year period data collected monthly from January 1, 2019 through December 31, 2023. Although the ACS includes many of the subjects previously covered by the decennial census sample, there are significant differences between the two surveys including fundamental differences in survey design and residency rules.

Margin of error (MOE): The MOE is a measure of the variability of the estimate due to sampling error. MOEs enable the data user to measure the range of uncertainty for each estimate with 90 percent confidence. The range of uncertainty is called the confidence interval, and it is calculated by taking the estimate +/- the MOE. For example, if the ACS reports an estimate of 100 with an MOE of +/- 20, then you can be 90 percent certain the value for the whole population falls between 80 and 120.

Reliability: Symbols represent threshold values Esri has established from the Coefficients of Variation (CV) to designate the usability of the estimates. The CV measures the amount of sampling error relative to the size of the estimate, expressed as a percentage.

-  High Reliability: Small CVs (less than or equal to 12 percent) are flagged green and are considered reasonably reliable.
-  Medium Reliability: Estimates with CVs between 12 and 40 are flagged yellow and should be used with caution.
-  Low Reliability: Large CVs (over 40 percent) are flagged red and are considered very unreliable.

Data Note: The Traffic Profile displays up to 30 of the closest available traffic counts within the largest radius around your site. The years of the counts in the database range from 2024 to 2000. Esri removes counts that are older than 2000 from the Kalibrate provided database. Traffic counts are identified by the street on which they were recorded, along with the distance and direction to the closest cross-street. Distances displayed as 0.00 miles (due to rounding), are closest to the site. A traffic count is defined as the two-way Average Daily Traffic (ADT) that passes that location.
