Yakima County Outlook

There is a generalization about the Yakima County job market that: "In good years we grow slower than Washington state, but in the bad years we do not lose jobs as rapidly as the state." A relatively long-term view of average nonfarm job growth rates from 2009 through 2021 generally supports this "rule:" Following the 2007 to 2009 national recession, Washington's and Yakima County's job markets were hit hard. Washington's nonfarm job-loss rate in 2009 was-4.4 percent, while Yakima experienced a less severe -1.7 percent loss rate. In 2010, the loss rates were -0.9 percent statewide versus a more modest -0.4 percent in the county. Annually from 2010 to 2019, nonfarm job-growth rates in Yakima County were not as strong as those experienced statewide During the COVID-19-related layoffs of 2020, the job-loss rate in Yakima County (-5.0 percent) was a bit less severe that the -5.4 percent loss rate across Washington. In calendar year 2021, the 2.5 percent average annual upturn in nonfarm employment in Yakima County exceeded the 2.3 percent average annual nonfarm job growth rate for Washington state. The main reason for this good news/bed news scenario in the local economy is likely that the sgricultural industry (which provided 27.8 percent of total covered employment in 2020) exerts a moderating effect on Yakima County's labor market. Yakima County's nonfarm economy added 2,100 jobs in 2021, an average annual increase of 2.5 percent, as rehiring occurred following COVID-19-related layoffs during 2020. Year over year, total nonfarm employment contracted from April 2020 through March 2021 before expanding in the past 11 months (April 2021 through February 2022. Recently, nonfarm employment advanced by 5,200 jobs (up 6.4 percent) countywide, rising from 81,800 jobs in February 2021 to 87,000 in February 2022.
