This is a rare opportunity to acquire a prime downtown Everett assemblage totaling approximately 23,087 SF across two corner buildings and three contiguous parking lots. With Everett's recent MU25 zoning update, the site offers potential for up to 25 stories of mixed-use development.

Highlights

- Total land assemblage: ~23,087 SF (0.53 acres)
- MU25 zoning – mixed-use flexibility up to 25 stories
- Current as-is income from existing buildings & parking
- Prime corner location at Wall St & Rucker Ave
- Significant redevelopment upside (2–3x on parking parcels, premium assemblage value)

MU25

*MU25 –
Unlocking New Potential
2044*

Everett's 2044 Comprehensive Plan emphasizes housing expansion, economic vitality, and transit-oriented development. MU25 zoning was created to unlock vertical density in the urban core, driving demand for:

- Multifamily housing
- Middle housing
- Retail + Dining
- Medical & Office space

This property sits squarely in the path of Everett's 20-year growth vision.

Property Overview

- 1316 Wall St (Corner Building): Street-front visibility, income-producing, future redevelopment play.
- 3006 Rucker Ave (Skinny Building): Flexible use, boutique redevelopment potential.
- Parking Parcels (3): 13,940 SF of land, most significant redevelopment upside under MU25.

Premium Assemblage Opportunity

Individually, each property carries strong as-is and redevelopment potential. Combined, the assemblage creates a premium development site with scale and efficiency.

- Combined footprint: ~23,087 SF
- Contiguous frontage across Wall St & Rucker Ave
- Skybridge potential between buildings
- Attractive to institutional developers seeking scale

SITES, VIEWS & SURROUNDINGS

Sites Layout & Development Potential

This assemblage includes two corner buildings and three contiguous parking parcels with combined frontage along Wall Street and Rucker Avenue. Current improvements provide holding income, while the land footprint positions the site as a prime redevelopment play. Photos showcase existing structures, surface parking, and the scale of opportunity for high-rise mixed-use under MU25 zoning.

Condo Development Potential

Key Modeling Assumptions (industry-standard for early massing)

- Site area (5 parcels combined): ~23,087 SF (your assemblage)
- Tower floorplate: 8,000–10,500 SF (typical urban tower over a podium on a ~0.5-acre site).
- Residential floors: varies by scenario (see below).
- Efficiency (gross → net sellable condos): 75–80% (accounts for corridors, shafts, amenities).
- Average condo size: ~850–950 SF (mix of studios–2BRs; adjust to your program).
- Ground floor/podium: reserved for retail, lobby, services, structured parking (parking reductions possible per EMC 19.34).

Scenario	Simple massing assumption	Residential GFA (approx.)	Sellable condo SF (75–80% eff.)	Unit count @ ~900 SF avg
A. One Tall Tower	~20 res floors × 10,500 SF plate	210,000 SF	158,000–168,000 SF	175–190
B. Two Towers (phased)	Tower 1: 18 × 9,000; Tower 2: 14 × 8,000	~274,000 SF	206,000–219,000 SF	225–245
C. Mid-Rise Stack	8 res floors × 16,000 (broad plate)	128,000 SF	96,000–102,000 SF	105–120

Disclaimer: The development scenarios, square footage, and unit counts presented are preliminary, high-level feasibility estimates based on MU25 zoning allowances and typical urban design assumptions. They are provided for illustrative and marketing purposes only and do not constitute architectural plans, entitlements, or guarantees of buildable area. Actual development potential will depend on final site planning, city approvals, design standards, parking requirements, and buyer due diligence.
