WareSpace

The warehousing industry isn't really designed for small businesses. Most industrial landlords still play by old rules: long-term contracts, hidden fees, oversized spaces, and confusing leases.

WareSpace is different.

We provide the perfect small warehouse space for businesses that have outgrown the garage or storage unit, but don't want to drown in a giant lease. We offer 200-2,000 SF private warehouse spaces with unlimited access to industrial infrastructure and all-inclusive amenities.

We envision a world where anyone can find the perfect small warehouse space. One that can be sized up or down without the headaches and with everything included, from racking and loading docks to high-speed WiFi and break rooms.

We're here to give you the space and the support to grow. In fact, if you ever need anything from us, give us a shout: founders@warespace.com. (Yes, we actually read it.)

FAQs

Can I work from my warehousing space?

Yes! Our warehouse units are meant for workspace, big and small. We also offer dedicated office units, but many tenants choose to set up an office in their warehouse as well. There are plenty of electric outlets + powerful WiFi.

Is WareSpace closed at night?

No, you'll have 24/7 access to your WareSpace. You can accept 2 AM deliveries and work through the night, if you wish!

Is WareSpace suitable for perishable goods?

Since our units are climate-controlled 24/7, they are suited for some perishable goods. Tenants with sensitive products can install refrigeration inside their units.

What businesses aren't a fit for WareSpace?

Businesses that require heavy industrial setups or loud machinery operation are not a good fit for WareSpace, where neighboring units are close by.

What if my space needs change overtime?

Leasing at WareSpace means that your space will always be scalable. At any time during your agreement, you can expand into a larger unit as your business grows or shrink into a smaller unit when things are quiet.
