MaRS Waterfront

Where the future of work begins

The fastest growing tech hub in the world has discovered a new neighbourhood

Toronto's waterfront is the newest smart-city district — where digital connectivity meets accessible neighbourhoods that achieve environmental sustainability targets, transit networks and urban lifestyle.

Glad you could make it.

This is MaRS Waterfront: a brand new workspace concept for high-tech innovators.

In partnership with the University of Toronto and Menkes, MaRS Waterfront provides the work, meeting and event space a founder needs to grow their company.

“Every entrepreneur needs peers to relate. I fell a lot over the course of my journey; MaRS and Toronto’s innovation community helped pick me up.”

— Joshua Wong

Innovation from the ground up

MaRS Waterfront

Grow and scale your company all in one place

Sometimes you need a quiet two-person room for brainstorming; other times you may want to videoconference with clients around the world; and sometimes you need a 150-seat amphitheatre to showcase your latest win.

It's also important for young companies to have fun — to grow as a team, to collaborate with brilliant minds, and to be excited about showing up for work every day.

Place matters. And if a company wants to succeed, it needs the people and resources found in beautiful work and event spaces like MaRS Waterfront, and international cities like Toronto.

MaRS Waterfront has everything you need to your grow and scale your company in place, from startup to scale-up.
