Entertainment Hotbed

CITY OF LIGHTS | HUB OF BUSINESS

The immediate area is a hotbed for entertainment, film industry, and lifestyle brand giants such as Sony Pictures, Amazon Studios, HBO, Apple, Nike, and Beats to name a few. Hackman Capital Partners, the developer behind the Amazon deal, predicts that close to 10,000 new employees will descend upon the area in coming years. Since announcing it was moving its headquarters to Culver City, Amazon Studios has expanded its footprint locally, with roughly 630,000 square feet in the city.

Apple, who currently occupies about 500,000 square feet in Culver City where its Apple+ TV is based, just received City Council approval in February 2023 for an additional 334,000 square foot office complex called Culver Crossing. Apple said it will be expanding its Culver City team from 1,500 to 3,000 people when completed.

Home of Innovation

Corporate Synergy

Culver City and the Hayden Tract neighborhood are now home to some of the most well-known startups in the LA area. As the leading destination for short-form mobile video, TikTok offers a home for creative expression and a unique and joyful experience. Sweetgreen is on a mission to make sustainably-sourced and scratch-made food more widely available. Omaze is an online fundraising platform that gives donors the chance to win unique experiences when they donate to their favorite causes. Scopely, one of LA's most noteworthy gaming companies, recently closed a $60 million round less than a year after securing its Series B.

SILICON BEACH

While Silicon Beach is sometimes used to loosely describe both LA and Orange County, the tech community specifically refers to the stretch of cities west of LA, spanning from Santa Monica to Venice, often including communities as far as Hermosa Beach. More commonly, Silicon Beach encompasses the following tech hubs: Santa Monica, Venice, Marina del Rey, Playa Vista, Playa del Rey, El Segundo, Manhattan Beach and Hermosa Beach, respectively.
