Tampa, Florida, is a beautiful city located on the west coast of the state along the Gulf of America. Known for its warm climate, beautiful waterfront views, and mix of modern and historic charm, Tampa offers a dynamic blend of culture, business, and recreation. The city is home to attractions like Busch Gardens, the Florida Aquarium, and the Tampa Riverwalk, as well as a thriving culinary scene and diverse neighborhoods. With its growing economy, proximity to pristine beaches, and rich cultural heritage, Tampa is both a popular travel destination and a desirable place to live.

Property & Context

- Telecom Gardens is a well-known business park in North Tampa, known for its professional environment and strong mix of office users.
- The larger ZIP area (33617) spans Temple Terrace / north Tampa, with density, moderate household incomes, and a mix of residential and commercial uses.
- Temple Terrace itself has ±26,900 residents (2023), a median household income of ±$65,750, and an average commute of ±26.1 minutes
- Located within the greater New Tampa / Temple Terrace trade area, a densely populated corridor with over 120,000 residents within three miles and average household incomes near $90,000.
- Surrounded by established master-planned communities such as Tampa Palms, Hunter's Green, and Cory Lake Isles, quality diversified housing and commerce readily available for USF/Fletcher Corridor office market workforce.
- The USF/New Tampa submarket is anchored by a robust healthcare ecosystem, including the USF Medical School, Moffitt Cancer Center, VA Hospital, AdventHealth, HCA, BayCare, and numerous physician groups, diagnostic centers, and ancillary service providers, creating a significant local and regional employment base.

Tampa Office Market

- In Q2 2025, Tampa's office market saw ±1.4 million SF leased, while new deliveries (±486,000 SF) tempered net absorption, yielding a ±9.9% vacancy rate.
- Across 2025 to date, net absorption has remained positive — Q3 reflected ±203,000 SF of positive absorption.
- The submarket bifurcation is strong: while Westshore, Downtown, and “flight-to-quality” assets lead leasing momentum, many suburban or older assets carry higher vacancy — in parts of Northeast Tampa vacancy has been reported exceeding 15%.
- The development pipeline remains very modest; as of mid-2025, only ±143,500 SF of new office product was underway (≈ 0.2% of inventory), reducing short-term risk of oversupply.
- Talent pipeline & education access: Tampa and surrounding institutions (e.g. University of South Florida in the region) provide a labor pool. (While not UCF local, Tampa benefits from several universities.)
- Relocation trend: With Miami / Southeast Florida seeing rising costs, Tampa remains an attractive alternative for firms relocating to Florida.
- Hold optionality: If older office demand softens, redevelopment or repositioning into flex / mixed-use is a potential fallback.

Submarket / Corridor Considerations

- Fletcher Avenue is a key arterial and historically has seen mixed commercial/office along it.
- Fowler Avenue is state road SR 582, running east-west just south of the site; it is a major corridor connecting into central Tampa.
- The corridor between Fletcher and Fowler (and supporting cross streets) tends to be viewed as secondary/suburban office territory — meaning rental rates and quality must compete with core Tampa submarkets.
- The site's relative distance from Westshore / downtown means tenants will weigh commuting, amenity access, and parking as key decision factors.
- Hidden River Corporate Park is a nationally recognized and locally prominent master-planned office park located just across Fletcher Avenue, providing a strong nearby employment base that supports surrounding retail and service uses.
- The property is located 3 minutes from I-75 and roughly 5 minutes from the I-4 interchange, providing convenient access to the I-4 Corridor, Central Florida, and South Florida via the Florida Turnpike and I-95.

Key Nodes & Projects

The “Fletcher District”

The “Fletcher District” is a newly approved mixed-use development near USF, on the site of a former golf course, combining student housing, retail, research, and amenities. This is a major placemaking move aimed to consolidate live-work-play density close to the corridor.

Lettuce Lake Park

Lettuce Lake Park lies along Fletcher Avenue, providing a substantial green amenity and a major recreational draw near the corridor. The park features boardwalk trails, observation towers, canoe and kayak access to the Hillsborough River, and abundant wildlife, making it a key destination for outdoor activity and nature appreciation within the Tampa area.
