HIGHLIGHTS

This rare duplex sits directly on the Grand Canal at the entrance to Marina del Rey's Silver Strand. The site offers serene water views, multiple private outdoor spaces, and easy access to Mother's Beach, Venice Beach, the historic Venice Canals, and a vibrant mix of restaurants and cafés. The property is less than 20 minutes to LAX with no freeway driving required. Beverly Hills, Santa Monica, West Los Angeles, and the South Bay are all an easy drive away. With an incredible walkability score of 82 out of 100 for Marina del Rey, the neighborhood is outstanding for its amazing access; and with current rents below market, the property presents a meaningful upside opportunity for an investor or an ideal owner user residence for those seeking a premier coastal lifestyle.

MARINA DEL REY

Located along one of the most desirable waterfront streets in Marina del Rey, 3903 Via Dolce presents a rare opportunity to own a duplex in a neighborhood where lifestyle and long-term value go hand in hand. Nestled beside one of the Marina del Rey Harbor's picturesque boat basins, the property enjoys a tranquil setting with views of sailboats and yachts while remaining just blocks from the beach, Venice Canals, and an abundance of dining, shopping, and recreational amenities. The property is a two-unit residential building constructed in 1978, a scarce asset type in an area dominated by condominiums and luxury single-family residences.

From an investment perspective, Marina del Rey continues to benefit from limited land availability, high barriers to new development, and consistently strong demand from professionals, executives, and affluent renters seeking a coastal lifestyle. Duplex properties offer unique flexibility, allowing an owner to occupy one residence while generating rental income from the second, or lease both units to capitalize on one of Southern California's most established rental markets.

For owner-users, the appeal extends well beyond the property itself. Residents enjoy immediate access to miles of waterfront promenades, cycling paths, paddleboarding, sailing, beaches, and renowned restaurants, creating a year-round resort-style environment. The neighborhood's walkability and proximity to Venice, Santa Monica, Playa Vista, and Los Angeles International Airport further enhance its desirability.

Whether acquired as a long-term investment or a primary residence with supplemental rental income, 3903 Via Dolce represents an opportunity to own real estate in one of Los Angeles' premier coastal communities. The combination of a waterfront-adjacent location, enduring housing demand, limited inventory, and exceptional lifestyle amenities positions the property to appeal to investors seeking stable income as well as owner-users looking to enjoy the best of Marina del Rey living.

TRANSPORTATION

Big Blue Bus Route

3903 Via Dolce offers excellent access to public transportation serving Marina del Rey, Venice, and the greater Westside. The nearest transit stop is Via Dolce & Dell Alley, served by Big Blue Bus Route 18 with direct service to Venice, Santa Monica, UCLA, and connections to Metro Rail. Nearby Washington Blvd/Via Dolce provides Culver CityBus and Metro bus service. The closest Metro rail station is Expo/Sepulveda Station on the E Line, offering convenient access to Downtown Los Angeles and Santa Monica.

VERY WALKABLE

Most errands can be accomplished on foot.
