The label on the device contains the following information:

CATALOG S-R2115		SERIES 40
50 AMP	120/240 V.A.C.	1	71
120/240	1	1	71
240	1	1	71

The label also includes the text "EQUIPMENT COMPANY" and "20".
