BENTONVILLE

ARKANSAS

“Located in the heart of the Ozarks, Bentonville is a charming and rapidly growing city known for its innovative entrepreneurialism. Home to Walmart’s global headquarters and the Crystal Bridges Museum of American Art, Bentonville offers a unique blend of small-town charm and big-city amenities, making it an ideal destination for visitors and residents alike.” \(Source\)

Bentonville has seen a great deal of growth, new construction, and development in the last decade. The city’s population has increased by over 50%, from 35,478 in 2010 to 54,283 in 2020 and then to 59,942 in 2024. According to an October 2024 article¹, there has been a 9.8% population increase since 2020 — and experts predict NWA will house over 1 million residents by 2050, per the Arkansas Democrat-Gazette. This growth has been driven by a number of factors, including the expansion of Walmart and other major corporations, intentional development and investment by the Waltons, and the resulting high quality of life and amenities in the area. The city’s unemployment rate is below the state and national average, and its median income is above the state and national average, with a median household income of $104,355 in 2024 and an 8% rise in household incomes over 200K from 2015 to 2020.²

One of the most noticeable signs of Bentonville’s growth is the construction boom that has taken place in recent years. New residential and commercial buildings have sprung up all over the city, particularly near the downtown area. Bentonville has also received national recognition in publications such as the Wall Street Journal³, Condé Nast, Vogue, and Architectural Digest for being an up and coming epicenter for arts, food⁴, and quality of life.
