811 Stockton Ave in Fort Collins, Colorado, presents a rare opportunity for an owner-user seeking a functional, well-maintained industrial facility ideally suited for manufacturing, production, or related industrial operations. The 58,020 sf (based on ILC Survey dated 8/16/2020) freestanding building sits on 5.12 acres and offers a balanced combination of warehouse efficiency and renovated office space, making it highly adaptable to a wide range of manufacturing workflows.

Constructed in 1985 with a durable metal and steel frame, the property features an 16'-9" to 24'-0" clear height, three (3) dock-high loading doors, and one (1) drive-in door - allowing for streamlined shipping, receiving, and internal material flow. The facility is supported by an ordinary-hazard sprinkler system and has benefited from ongoing capital improvements, including HVAC replacements in 2021 and remodeled office areas on both floors. With 152 parking spaces and direct access to East Mulberry Street and I-25, the site provides excellent regional connectivity for both labor and distribution. The northwest parking lot could potentially be fenced for outside storage.

Zoned C - Commercial, the property supports a wide range of industrial and manufacturing uses, and the large site offers efficient truck circulation and outdoor storage flexibility. In a market with limited owner-user industrial options, 811 Stockton Avenue stands out as a move-in ready, low-maintenance facility that can immediately support production, assembly, fabrication, and similar manufacturing operations.
