A burgeoning 18-hour city, White Plains, NY is building on its foundation as an established business and shopping center to attract additional residents, shoppers and businesses. The city is recasting itself as a city for 'urban living', which provides symbiotic benefits for residents, visitors and businesses. The CBD's established business and shopping districts, along with varied restaurant and entertainment options, are requisites for the urban lifestyle, which has in turn fostered the city's multifamily developments.

White Plains is also home to many distinguished medical organizations including New York Presbyterian Behavioral Health Center and White Plains Hospital. Further, White Plains Hospital is a leading healthcare provider in Westchester County and home to many renowned programs and services including the Center for Cancer care, Orthopedics, and the William & Sylvia Silberstein Neonatal and Maternity Center.
