Property Description

Views of rugged mountains and the vibrant downtown are among the many features of this center situated in the energized business district of Salt Lake City. The landmark granite-clad 222 Main building is an architectural triumph built to high environmental standards. It includes an expansive lobby featuring an active fireplace finished in stone. The fifth-floor center's interiors exude quality, with floor-to-ceiling glass and view corridors and column-free floors. The location is also terrific - it's right in the middle of the financial and court districts, within walking distance of many amenities. Neighbors include law firms, banks, city/government buildings and the Chamber of Commerce. Salt Lake City's diverse businesses include computer and health services, finance, banking, tourism and construction. The center offers direct access to major freeways, with Interstate-15 just a few blocks away. It is also near the light-rail corridor and only 10 minutes from the airport.
